JAPANESE MASS IN DEMONSTRATION

TOKYO, May 1.—(INS)—
General Douglas MacArthur calmly puffed on his famed cornob pipe as he arrived at his headquarters today, thus displaying his contempt for assassins who plotted to strike him down with hand grenades and pistols during a mammoth Japanese May Day demonstration.

MacArthur motored to his headquarters exactly according to his daily schedule, arriving at the top moment of the demonstration while 300,000 communist-inspired Japanese were singing the communist international.

The five-starred supreme commander gave scant attention to the tremendous throng assembled outside Emperor Hirohito's moated palace across the street from his headquarters.

Usual Honor Guard
Only the usual jeep honor guard
and two white MP motorcycles preceded MacArthur's car as it carried the general from his home in the American embassy to his headquarters.

When the May Day assassination plot was uncovered yesterday, MacArthur refused to permit any personal guard to be assigned to him.

The plot was revealed to army

PA NEW OBSERVES

Forty births were recorded during the month of April at the New Castle hospital, with 21 male infants being born and 19 female infants.

When the bride and groom leave
the church don't toss rice at them.
"Avoid throwing rice at weddings
while it is so urgently needed for food," the state health department said today in outlining a food conservation program.

Week of May 11-19 will be observed throughout the United States
as National Citizenship Week. Climax of the event will be the observance of "I am an American Day" with celebrations in hundreds of communities on May 19.

Danger of further frosts has not yet ended, if we can take last year's weather as an indication. On May 2 a devastating frost occurred, with the temperature dropping down to 27 degrees, and on May 11 the mercury dropped to 23 degrees. So folks who are planning to get an early start on their tomatoes and other tender vegetables, had better hold off yet awhile.

Senator Wagner Sees Senate Revision Of House O.P.A. Measure

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(INS)—
Sen. Wagner (D) N. Y., predicted today that the Senate Banking and Currency committee will revise extensively the amendment-riddled
House bill to extend price control.
Wagner, chairman of the committee, said his group planned to begin voting on price control legislation the middle of next week.
Wagner was asked whether he thought "the House bill will be reported out in anything like its present form." He said he did not, and added:
"Of course, it's difficult to say what the committee will do, but I don't anticipate that."
Wagner said the hearings would close with the testimony of three

Peace-Makers In Coal Strike Develop Row

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(INS)—
The government's peace-making efforts in the month-old soft coal strike were slowed today by a row
among the peace-makers themselves.
Special Mediator Paul W. Fuller, who resigned in protest against Secretary of Labor Schwelmbach's handling of the coal case, was to reply today to the secretary's plea
for reconsideration of his action.

The Akron (Ohio) conciliator was expected to notify the secretary
prior to the scheduled resumption of negotiations whether he would continue on the case with his comediator, Edward F. McGrady.

Meantime, John L. Lewis and the bituminous operators remained far apart in their negotiations for a new contract which would return the 400,000 striking miners to their jobs.
In addition, Lewis notified the government that his 72,000 anthracite miners will strike May 31 to back up demands similar to those which have closed bituminous pits.
Hard coal negotiations will open
May 10.

Governor Reports Mental Patients Going To Deshon

HARRISBURG, May 1.—(INS)—
Gov. Edward Martin said today the Veterans' Administration had advised him that more than 800 ex-servicemen would be taken from state mental hospitals and placed in the army's Deshon hospital at Butler and the veterans institution under construction near Lebanon.
The governor had urged Gen.
Omar Bradley, veterans' administrator, to make use of the hospital on the Indianapolis Gap military reservation near Harrisburg.

The ex-servicemen saw action in the Spanish-American war and World Wars I and II.

Body Of Missing Pittsburgh Nurse Found In River

PITTSBURGH, May 1.—(INS)—
The body of Florence Gray, beautiful 23-year-old Pittsburgh nurse
who has been missing since Easter Sunday, was found today in the Monongahela river, police reported.
The girl's body was identified by County Detective Michael McDermott, a friend of the Gray family.

Friends said Miss Gray quit her job as chief anesthesia nurse at a local hospital last March, saying she wanted to rest and look for a new job.

LAMP EXPLOSION BLAMED IN DEATH OF TWO CHILDREN

CRESKAP, W. Va., May 1.—(INS)—
The explosion of a kerosene lamp
today was blamed for the death of two children and the injury to two others in a fire which destroyed the home of a Marshall county coal miner.

Authorities said the bodies of Lucille Pozell, 11, and her sister, Diana, three, were found in the blackened ruins of the home.
Floyd Grosser, a cousin, and Larry Pozell, a brother, were in a hospital seriously burned as a result of an attempted rescue of the two girls.
Larry Pozell, his wife, Regina,
and three other children escaped.

U.S. Ambassador To Russia Joins Big Four Parley

Indicates More Attention At Paris To Be Focused On Russian Problems

BYRNES FORCES SESSIONS SPEEDUP

PARIS, May 1.—(INS)—
Big Four foreign ministers opened peace treaty talks on an accelerated schedule today to allow ample time for the growing diplomatic tug-of-war between Russia and the western powers.

U. S. Secretary of State James F.
Byrnes' success in forcing the conference to inaugurate two sessions, a day was regarded as a diplomatic victory.

Informed sources pointed to the time consumed in discussing practically every issue concerning the Italian treaty, and said a speedup was needed to insure completion of the talks on the five Axis satellites.

New Attention On Russia

New attention was focused on Russian problems with the arrival
in Paris last night of Bedell Smith, American ambassador to Moscow.
He conferred with Byrnes this morning.

The secretary of state has also talked with American experts on Austrian affairs, who were said to have brought the views of Gen.
Mark W. Clark on occupation difficulties there.

Observers believe Byrnes is seeking to liquidate all European problems with Russia, whether they refer to the five "satellite" treaties or not. They feel he is working hard toward a friendly agreement on the

Communist Troops Renew Activity In Northern China

SHANGHAI, May 1.—(INS)—Renewed activity by communist troops
in northern China within 100 miles of Shanghai was reported today as communist troops in Manchuria pressed their campaign against Harbin.

As General George C. Marshall
virtually transferred his operations to the restored Chinese capital of Nanking, authentic reports indicated
the Chinese communists had captured Shinkiang, 90 miles northeast of Shanghai across the Yangtze river.

Reports also said the Chinese communist had renewed their assaults
on Nantunchow suburbs and on Yangchow and Lohu.

However, little alarm was felt in Shanghai as communist troops reportedly were keeping to the opposite side of the Yangtze valley.

Nationalist forces are expected to arrive soon in the Grand Canal

News Briefs

PARIS, May 1.—(INS)—The big four foreign ministers authorized their deputies today to advise Austrian that its claims submitted against Italy could not be considered. This decision, which said only "minor rectifications" of the Holocaust frontier could be rejected,
came after the ministers rejected Austrian proposals for immediately reducing troops of each power in Austria and establishment of a supervisory commission for Italy.

PARIS, May 1.—(INS)—U. S. Secretary of State
James F. Byrnes and Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov locked horns
today when the American statesman called for immediate reduction of occupation troops of each power in Austria. Byrnes suggested cutting down the forces of each of the big four inside the former satellite state to 15,000 men as the initial step toward evacuation of both Italy and Austria and the signing of peace
treaties with those nations.

MADRID.—Authoritative Spanish circles said today that Spain will welcome a United Nations investigating committee provided it is friendly to the regime of Generalissimo Francisco Franco. These sources said that Spain "doesn't think it should be obliged" to extend hospitality
to the representatives of countries
"hostile" to the present government.

Palestine Report Causes Tension Attlee Wants U.S. To Share Burden

Jewish, And Arab Leaders
Meet Separately To Discuss Recommendations

PROPOSE 100,000 JEWS ENTER LAND

JERUSALEM, May 1.—(INS)—
Jewish and Arab leaders met separately in Palestine today in an atmosphere of tension brought on by mutual dislike of recommendations of the Anglo-American committee
of inquiry that 100,000 homeless
Jews be admitted into the area.

Arab spokesmen predicted resistance to their followers would resist with "arms, hearts and lives" any influx of Jews.

Jewish leaders, aware of the violent Arab reaction, said they were "ready for any eventualities." They pointed out that the Jews felt the most serious flaw in the report lies in the fact that it does not fulfill the need of Jews in other lands.

Death Toll Mounts In Central Luzon Post-Election Feud

MANILA, May 1.—(INS)—The death toll mounted in central Luzon
today as rival guerrilla bands engaged in post-election bloodshed.

Seventeen additional violent killings today brought the total death toll since the Philippine election last week to 32.

Philippine military police, encouraged by the victory of President Elect Manuel Roxas, have engaged in a roundup of members of the militant "hukbalahap," an armed peasant guerrilla force.

Before the Philippine elections
the guerrilla force controlled central Luzon virtually unhampered. Their strongholds stood out almost alone
among Philippine provinces turning in an overwhelming vote for the defeated incumbent, President Sergio Osmena.

their automobile crashed into an auto near New Alexandria.

Combat Navy Ships May Be Redesigned

BERKELEY, Cal., May 1.—(INS)— Combat navy ships may be redesigned because of experiments underway by the University of California's division of electrical engineering.

Prof. M. P. O'Brien, dean of the college of engineering, announced today that the experiments are being conducted for the navy by university engineers seeking to improve naval communications.

O'Brien said the navy is seeking a way to perfect the antenna system
on board ships so that communication is assured at all times in all directions, and that this may lead to redesigning of combat vessels.

Seek To Learn Nation's Response In Food Saving

Government Investigating To Determine How Nation Is Aiding Conservation

RESPONSE IS NOT UP TO EXPECTATION

The government is investigating today to find out how the nation has responded to its food conservation program designed to help feed the hungry peoples of the world.

An official of the famine emergency committee said that the group hopes to have complete reports in about two weeks on the attitude
Americans have taken to its drive to cut down U. S. food consumption.

The official revealed that the mayors of 294 cities will be asked to set up local famine emergency committees in their communities. He said that these committees will make reports on the public reaction to the food conservation program.

Reaction "Favorable"
While the FEC official reported that the group has no extensive reports on U. S. response to the food conservation drive, he expressed belief that reaction has been "favorable."

One report to the famine committee indicated that 25 per cent of the nation's restaurants are cooperating in the "save-food" program by

May Day Speech Made By Stalin

Premier Stalin Asserts Rus-

Policy Of Peace And Security

LONDON, May 1.—(INS)—Peoples of the Soviet socialist republics were greeted by Premier Stalin today in a May Day broadcast urging vigilance against "the intrigues of international reactionaries hatching
plans for a new war."

Beamed over radio Moscow, Stalin's
"order of the day" proclaimed that Russia "will be true to its policy of peace and security," but warned Russians to "protect as the apple of one's eye the armed forces and defensive power of our country."

New Five Year Plan
The Soviet leader exhorted his listeners to work toward fulfillment
of their country's new five year plan,

Berliners Stage May Day Parade

Nearly 400,000 Berlin Citizens March Amid Ruins Of City In Celebration Today

BERLIN, May 1.—(INS)—Nearly 400,000 Berliners paraded today in the city's downtown ruins in a massive May Day celebration.

Tightly packed columns led by bands of red banners and brass bands moved toward the flag-lined Unter Den Linden while Soviet motorized patrols cruised alongside to prevent disorders.

The bombed out buildings were plastered with gaudy posters calling for unity of the German workers.
After the three-hour parade travelers addressed the crowds with appeals for unity as "our only salvation."

Franco Spain Goes On Trial Before UN Jury

Probing Committee Begins Investigation Of Spain's Activities, This Afternoon

U. S. PREPARING TO PRESENT EVIDENCE

(INS)—Franco Spain went on trial today before a five-power grand jury of the United Nations Security Council, charged with stirring up "international friction" and "endangering world peace and security."

Representatives of Australia, France, China and Brazil were meeting this afternoon to determine whether or not Generalissimo Francisco Franco's Madrid government was providing a breeding ground for World War III.

Today's session of the security council's sub-committee was a closed
one—although Australian Chairman Paul Hasluck promised a "communique."

Overnight, a welter of charges against the Madrid fascist regime had come in.

All To Present Evidence

All of the 51 members of the United Nations had been asked to present any evidence they might have concerning Spain's activities.
The security council's sub-committee was instructed to report back not later than May 31. On the Navy Secretary Attacks Plan To Merge Forces

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(INS)—
Secretary of the Navy Forrestal attacked merger of the army-navy today as a possible road to dictatorship.

Forrestal, appearing before the senate naval affairs committee, declared he desired coordination of the armed forces to achieve the most efficient national defense.

But, he said, the proposed merger
"is based upon a major premise,
which is false in that it fails to differentiate between unified command
in combat area and the planning functions at the seat of government which require deliberation and conference."

The secretary saw danger in a single cabinet office of common defense because it would deny cabinet status to the secretaries of the army, navy and air force.

He added that the bill would establish a supreme chief of staff and would concentrate "unprecedented power in his hands."

PLEADS GUILTY

LONDON, May 1.—(INS)—Dr.
Alan Nunn, May, involved in the recent Canadian spy ring, disclosures, pleaded guilty today to violation of the official secrets act.

May, who had worked with Canadian scientists on atomic bomb research, made his plea at arraignment in Old Bailey. The government charged he had communicated war information to a foreign power.

Protection Of U.S. 'Know-How' Secrets Is Poor

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(INS)—Sen. Wherry (R) Nebr., today severely criticized haphazard procedures for the protection of American industrial "know-how" secrets.

Wherry asserted he had found "marked weaknesses" in present anti-espionage statutes which must be remedied without delay as a threat to the national security.

The Nebraska Republican, with Sen. Eastland (D) Miss., is sponsor of a bill which would ban the sale or loan of radar or electronic equipment to foreign nations or individuals at the penalty of a ten-year jail sentence and $10,000 fine.

Hearings Begun

A senate judiciary subcommittee began hearings on the measure yesterday. Eastland as chairman of the group promised an extensive investigation, with government witnesses scheduled to testify later this week.

Wherry pointed out that under the declassification program as it is now administered a firm making radar equipment has no way of knowing what contracts it can make with foreign would-be purchasers.

Since much of the equipment has been declassified, he stated, a firm might under present circumstances agree to sell component parts. The purchaser by also acquiring the engineering know-how can easily assemble the finished product which may still be secret.

WASHINGTON HAS WORST HOSPITALS, SURVEY REPORTS

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(INS)—Washington hospitals today stood branded as a "disgrace" to the nation's capital.

The institutions were bitterly castigated in a report of the Metropolitan Health and Hospital survey which urged expenditure of thirty-five million dollars for new hospital construction and repair.

The report said that present conditions are as compared with New York, Philadelphia and Boston are "20 years behind modern standards."

BUILDING PERMITS

Neil Williams, city Bureau of Building, City Hall, today reported having issued permits to build yesterday as follows:

Nick Nemo, remodel dwelling, 1131 East Brook street, $50.

Mrs. Henry S. Burkley, office, 308 North Mercer street, $40.

Mrs. James V. D. Lawrence, concrete block garage, 1305 Wilmington avenue, $300.

Palestine Arab higher committee, attacked the report as being "inhuman, rash and foolish."

He charged that if implemented, the recommendations would result immediately in a general leftist trend throughout the Middle East. Hussein added:

"When a man is drowning, he clutches at any straw to save himself. There will be a trend to the left, and I mean Russia if you like—anyone who will help us."

Arab leaders in Jerusalem said that reports from their colleagues in Cairo indicated complete unanimity in "disgust" toward the committee's report.

Will Be Opposed

The secretary-general of the Arab League declared the recommendations would be strongly opposed by all Arab states. He said:

"They embitter relations between Britain and the Arab states, and turn the Palestine problem into an Anglo-Arab problem. Our attack will be against Britain, not the United States since Britain is in power. We oppose the report utterly in any case, since we never recognized the authority of the commission."

Opposition Arises

Washington, May 1.—(INS)—Both Jewish and Arab opposition arose today to the Anglo-American Palestine committee's recommendation that 100,000 oppressed European Jews be admitted at once into Palestine.

The Arab League indicated that it would not accept such a settlement and that its answer may be hostilities in the Middle East. Official Jewish reaction was equally unfavorable as the report was issued jointly in Washington and London.

The report carried President Truman's full endorsement, however, since it followed his recommendations, originally made to British Prime Minister Clement Attlee that the 100,000 be admitted. The British members of the committee had held out to the last against this concession and, it is assumed, gained some concessions in return.

The Jews are to be selected from those in Germany and Austria, with preference for those who are still in assembly centers. As far as possible, certificates for those eligible will be issued this year and their transfer arranged as hastily as possible.

Wife Dies After GI Reaches Home

NOTTINGHAM, May 1.—(INS)—Mrs. Winnifred May Cananney, whose GI husband flew 3,500 miles from Tauton, Mass., to be at her bedside, died today of tuberculosis.

Resident of Tauton had raised $2,000 to enable Cananney to make the trip March 30 in time to be with his wife in the remaining days of her life.

Fooled Army

GUNTER KAPPEL, Liegnitz, Germany, is shown after he was unmasked as a German spy who, for more than a year, passed himself off as a captain in the U. S. Army. In 1944, Kappel, then a Luftwaffe lieutenant, infiltrated into American lines where he was picked up in ragged condition posing as Theodore Corring, born in Buenos Aires of a North American father and Italian mother. His English and Spanish was excellent and after close interrogation he was taken into the Army as a captain. At the end of the war, he obtained a job with UNRRA, and it was only after Italian authorities suspected him of theft of a jeep, that he was detected. (International)

Action Of British Loan Proposal May Be Speeded

Barkley Still Hopes To Get Measure Through Senate During Present Week

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(INS)—Administration leaders backed up the line of support behind the British loan today with formal assurances that the house would take up the controversial issue at once after the senate has acted.

Rep. Spence (D) Ky., chairman of the house banking committee, announced that he is prepared to open public hearings next week if the 3-3-4 billion dollar agreement passes the senate by then.

House Speaker Rayburn told reporters he expected the house to vote on the loan before congress recesses and believed it would pass.

News Cheers Senate Leaders

The news cheered senate leaders struggling to force an early vote in the upper chamber. It eased their concern over previous reports that house leaders might let the agreement die for this year in fear that a house vote any time before the November elections would result in defeat.

Senate Majority Leader Barkley still "hoped" to overcome an opposition "time squeeze" and get the loan through the senate this week. One administration source said, however, that if necessary the senate could take another week on the loan before calling up the draft extension bill—which must be enacted by May 15.

Leading opponents of the loan have been conducting a near-filibuster in the apparent hope that if the bill is not passed by May 15, it will be forced to set the credit bill aside and take up the "must" draft measure.

Making Arrests For Speeding Here

Chief of Police Robert D. Hanna today announced that during the past two months approximately 30 persons have been arrested for alleged speeding of motor vehicles, all of whom have faced the charge before local aldermen. He said city police intend to continue enforcing the city speed laws which permits an auto to travel at not more than 25 miles an hour on city streets.

Intelligence officers by one of the conspirators who was almost fatally poisoned by the ring leader, Hideo Takayama, a former lieutenant in Japan's notorious Kempeitai "thought police."

A widespread search was under way for Takayama and several others in the assassin ring. A warning was issued the would-be assassins are armed with hand grenades and pistols with which they intended to kill MacArthur.

May Day Celebration

The May Day demonstration, which was to be used as a cover for the frustrated assassination plot, was the first held in Japan in the past decade.

The demonstrators carried red flags as they marched before the Mikado's palace, but no American or Russian flags were observed.

One group carried a banner in English, reading:

"Favor to GHQ, we beg of you to help for the lack of food."

The Tokyo demonstration was only one of many today throughout Japan. May Day demonstrations were held in most large Japanese cities from Sapporo, far to the north of Hokkaido, to Fukuoka in southern Kyushu.

Military police who "observed" the Tokyo demonstration from jeeps, trucks and Cub planes reported not a single incident occurred before noon, when a light rain began to dampen the spirit of the throngs, sending the enthusiastic home.

MacArthur's headquarters disclosed it had received the Japanese government's apologies for the assassination plot. MacArthur's aide, Col. Lawrence Bunker, received the apologies for the supreme commander and promised to forward them to MacArthur.

eventual withdrawal of allied occupation forces from both Austria and Germany.

Diplomatic circles believe the main stumbling-block to Soviet acceptance of Byrnes' proposed alliance in regard to Germany is the provision that the treaty would not be effective until after evacuation.

Postpone Boundary Problem

The ministers postponed until Friday any discussion of the Italian boundary problem, after Soviet Delegate V. M. Molotov recommended that Yugoslav and Italian representatives be invited to appear to give their views.

Thus, the door was left open for the big four to invite leaders of other Axis satellites to air their problems as various treaties are discussed.

Although the ministers confirmed their deputies' decision that the allied powers would not consider "major" Austrian claims for Italian territory, the conference was unable to reach accord on the disposition of lower Tyrol.

However, informed sources said the deputies' decision virtually assured Italy's retention of the area.

The official explained that cooperation by 25 per cent of U. S. restaurants is "not anything like the famine emergency committee expects the country to do better."

Reports to Washington on the response of American housewives have been meager. The official said that "it's too early to tell" what housewives are doing to save on food so that famine stricken peoples of foreign lands may eat.

As for the cooperation of bakers, the official said that they have not done "too much as yet" to aid in the food saving program. He added, however, that government action cutting domestic consumption of flour by 25 per cent will result in less bakery products.

basis of that report, the council will recommend action to the full assembly of the United Nations.

Soviet Russia momentarily was standing aside. The Moscow government held to the view that ample evidence already was before the council to prove that Franco's set-up was a definite threat to world peace.

Gromyko Held Out

The Soviet Union's delegate, Andrei Gromyko, held out to the last minute for a collective severance of diplomatic relations with Spain. He argued forcibly that sufficient evidence already was before the security council to warrant a complete rupture with Franco's government.

Finally, however, the equanimous Russian abstained from voting—reserving the right later to veto any action the council might take if it was not sufficiently definite.

The United States delegation—opposed to an immediate break with Spain—was preparing a considerable case against the Franco regime. State department officials estimated it would take about ten days to pull all of the documentary evidence together.

Principal charge by the United States against Madrid's fascist government will be that Spain is harboring 2,200 "obnoxious Nazis." These include scientists, financiers, diplomats and spies.

Funeral services for Robert Edmondson, of 123 West Washington street, were conducted Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the Second Baptist church, with the Rev. J. L. McFarland officiating.

However, Freeman Jack Home of Charlotte, N. C., said he thought the blast was set off by detonation of a "hedgehog" anti-submarine depth charge being carried from a forward magazine by Seaman Joseph Stuchinski of Baltimore.

Stuchinski, who escaped with a few minor scratches, could only say: "It went off—the thing just went off."

WASHINGTON CALLING by MARQUIS CHILDS

U. S. Coal Strike Is Affecting World

WASHINGTON, May 1.—If any proof were needed of the way in which the world is tied together, it could be found in this business of coal. The coal strike is pinching not merely this nation alone. Its shattering effects are being felt around the world.

To begin with, coal is directly related to Europe's hunger. Grain shipped to countries on the borderline of famine is no good if the mills cannot operate to grind it into flour.
CBS last week did a remarkable broadcast on hunger round the world. From Rome, Charles Shaw reported:

"The American coal strike depresses Italians. Additional coal is badly needed here to operate flour mills and bakeries, without which imported grain is worthless. Coal also is needed to operate factories and provide Italians with means with which to buy food."

Italy is an UNRRA country that is on the relief level. Equally serious is the effect that dwindling coal supplies will have on those European countries which are buying supplies to restore their industry.
France is a perfect example. Members of Leon Blum's mission to this country brought confidential figures showing what the world crisis in coal meant to France.

These figures show that production today in France is approximately 70 per cent of the 1938 level.
They show, too, that the only remaining bottleneck is coal. Economists and experts who accompanied Blum are convinced that,
if France could get a million tons
more coal a month, production could be increased well above the 78 level and the French would be well along the road to recovery.

Before the war, France consumed 69,000,000 tons a year. Of this she produced 47,000,000 tons. Coal production inside France today is at the prewar rate or even above it.
But before the war, France was dependent upon 22,000,000 tons of imports. For the first quarter of this year, she got only an average of 900,000 tons a month from outside her borders. It is important to note that this coal came from:

From Germany came 330,000 tons, from Britain 100,000, and from the United States 470,000 tons of low-grade coal. Shipments from this country held up in April, but they will be cut in half for May if the strike continues.

It is Germany's coal that is the danger spot in the world coal picture.

The French are indignant that such a large share of German production from the Ruhr mines should be going to Germany. Since the Ruhr mines are in the British zone, their indignation is aimed chiefly at the British.

The confidential figures of German production are very revealing.
They show that, in January, coal production in the American, British and French zones was just under 5,500,000 tons. Of this total, 1,200,000 tons were exported and, of that amount, 370,000 went to France.
Thus, Germany was left with more than 4,000,000 tons. In addition, the German zone had enough lignite or brown coal to make the equivalent of another million tons.

Why, the French demand, should their industrial recovery be held back in order to give the Germans
so much more coal than they are getting. American officials are inclined to be sympathetic with this viewpoint.

On the other hand, the communist in the German occupation zones are primarily concerned with stability inside Germany.

The British are in a particularly difficult position. Coal production in Britain has been dropping steadily downward ever since the end of the war. In spite of constant appeals by the Labor government to the coal miners.

Britain's coal mines are operated with outmoded machinery and by methods long since abandoned in this country. Miners must work in shafts only four feet high. It is an industry that has long been coasting downhill.

Coal is the key to the recovery of Western Europe. For the moment, American coal is the key. And John L. Lewis, the man with the key, shows a stony unconcern for the fate of the world.

Has been welcomed in with laughter,
Song and dance and childhood's

Let what must, come following after!

Bud and bloom and fat bees buzzing,
Fairest month of all the dozen.

Free once more are brook and river, Blue the heavens and green the grasses.
Wind that set the flesh a-shiver
Now leaves perfume as it passes.
Everywhere the world seems brighter,
All hearts just a little lighter.

Braid again the ribbon streamers, Sing you children as you're dancing.
Here's the month when all are dreamers—
Month of beautiful romancing, Month that care from hearts can cozen.
Loveliest month of all the dozen.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 7:41. Sun rises tomorrow 6:13.

Scientists tell us that green is the color most calming to the nerves.
This does not include, we imagine,
the shade that some Christmas jewelry has a tendency to turn to about this time of the year.

It would seem that about the first thing a big league ball player does,
before jumping to the Mexican circuit, is to invest in a round-trip ticket.

A Northampton man who recently celebrated his 102nd birthday
has outlived four wives and ten children. And we imagine, he often wonders why.

THAT'S DIFFERENT Private: Would you blame me for something I didn't do?
Sergeant: Of course not.
Private: Well, I didn't get up for reveille.

Imbro Djurekovic, of Altoona, Pa., became a citizen in less words than
it takes to tell it.
The presiding judge, after learning he had fathered 12 children,
five of whom were in service, merely said, "He's admitted. That's what we call good citizenship, and a wise judge."

If a man didn't have someone to work for, a flag to die for, and a God to believe in, he would soon get to wondering what it all about.

A local man, whose name will not be mentioned, was out playing golf
the other day, with his usual success. "I'd move heaven and earth to play this game properly," he confided to the caddy.
"Well, you're only heaven now
sir," came the dry retort.

Now it is claimed, that some ailing Japs were actually benefited by the explosion of those atomic bombs.
That's a cure, however, we would want to be a little low about trying.

War veterans are being urged to go in for clam farming. We've been around a farm quite a lot in our times but we have yet to dig up a clam.

WHERE WAS GEORGE
"I wish I knew where George was?" remarked a young New Castle bride to her mother-in-law.
"I presume you mean, my dear,"
said the MIL, "that you wish you knew where he is."

"Oh, no, I don't," came the reply.
"I know where he is. He's up in bed with a black eye and a headache.
I want to know where he got it."

Until recently leather money was used in some parts of China we learn. Probably that's where the old skin game originated.

Squirrels chewed through a telephone wire up in Canada and set fire to a building. We thought squirrels had a better sense of smell than that.

There are some things the war hasn't changed a bit. Nearly all the sports writers are picking the Yanks
to win the pennant again this year.

Whales, we learn, are being hunted down and killed by means of radar and rockets. We don't suppose the whales like this a bit, but then we never heard that whales had any brains anyhow.

Funny man! He wouldn't wear an artificial flower, yet doesn't object to one that is artificially colored.

Theory of radio and movies. Only the few have good taste; to please the masses, make it dumb and mediocre.

If we have too much aluminum,
make it into sheets like "tin" for roofing. What a joy to have a roof that would last!

Our system requires making things that soon wear out or changing styles frequently. Otherwise we'd soon be jobless.

Strange man! He kills a million innocents because he was too soft to hang a dozen warmongers at the start.

The World and the Mud Puddles

RELEASE THE BRAKES

How did the United States become the wealthiest and most powerful nation on earth with the highest standard of living in the world?

It was not through regimentation and price controls. It was under the system of free enterprise and the profit motive.

The war has been over for the better part of a year, the Germans surrendering in May and the Japs
in August, 1945, but wartime regulations are still with us, and the wartime "emergency" has not even been released. Officially, we are still at war. The OPA with its overall control of our economy—or ways of doing business—is supposed to be abolished—June 30th this year, but Chester Bowles, the OPA chief, with his ninety thousand assistants, is pleading for an indefinite extension of his Bureau, as the only safeguard, he says, against inflation.

It is all very delightful, of course,
that one doesn't have to pay Twenty Dollars for a shirt, or One Hundred Dollars for a suit of clothes. But there are no shirts and as for clothes, we are obliged to take what you can get.

Some of the restrictions such as on gasoline have been removed. But lumber and other building materials are still in a jumble and millions of people are riding in dangerous jalopies. Butter is almost an unknown quantity and there is no feed for the chickens.

Through OPA regulations these commodities have been either regulated out of existence or they have been drained off into black markets and you can get them sometimes if you have money to burn. At least, there is nothing fair, reasonable or sensible in the entire proposition.

The effort to enforce wartime measures in peacetime is repugnant to all Americans for they recognize that this country has flourished
and prospered through men and companies conducting their business through merit and ingenuity, without over-powering governmental interference on the part of desk-farmers and desk-industrialists, simply tucked away in fair government jobs but without any practical business experience.

Other OPA regulations carry penalties aggregating Ten Thousand Dollars fines or ten years in prison, or both. And these penalties may be imposed without the accused having his day in a court of justice, but tried and sentenced by the OPA itself.

Such regulations and procedures
may possibly have been excusable
or justifiable in war to insure cooperation under tragic conditions,
but they are most certainly undesirable and unnecessary on the road
back to normalcy.

It often has been said that "people who are least governed are the best governed" and in the light of American phenomenal progress it would seem that such a principle applies most emphatically to Americans who have done a rather successful job in governing themselves
and expanding their comforts.

All the slaves of ancient Egypt could not do the work of a single American power plant. And the average American family today has more power in its home than the ancient kings with their entire resources of menials. This progress and development in technology and invention did not just happen. Up to the opening of World War II American industrialists since the turn of the century expended Six Billion Dollars in research alone, studying and improving ways of doing things.

Now they are considering "socialized" intentions, giving to everybody the product of such a progress of the inventive genius. Obviously, this would completely discourage any particular company or "capitalist" from advancing the money for perfecting the idea of an inventor
with the result that it would be lost to the usefulness of posterity.

OPA Chieftain Bowles, who talks out of the corner of his mouth, offers no better excuse for retaining his Bureau in authority other than it is the one and only way by which the country can be saved from inflation. This argument, of course, is ridiculous. The Eighteenth Amendment didn't dry up the liquor business, even though it had all the power of law in the Constitution. It made the liquor business more vicious and converted millions of accused people not only into law-breakers but booze crazies.

America will never pull itself out of its economic hole by Bureaucratic regulations with their ever-changing rules and restrictions. You can't repeat or amend the law of supply and demand by fiat, except to kill both of them. When people have a lot of money, as they now have,
they are going to buy what they want if they can get it, irrespective of law. Price regulation doesn't mean a thing except to put a jinx
on the source of supplies. Big business is not going to risk its money
in production with the prospect of selling below cost or sending its executives to jail.

This country will never experience
wild inflation unless the government itself starts printing money. Chester Bowles and his crewwork price regulators to the contrary notwithstanding. Without price-control it is probable that for a time prices will shoot upward. But they will come down again when farms and factories get down to work and produce enough to supply the demand, and not before.

We have gone through all this in the past and come out all right,
and we can do it again if we can get rid of the Bureaucrats and give business the GO signal.

The people have saved up One Hundred Fifty Billion Dollars during this war they want to spend,
and we could just as well be enjoying historic prosperity if we were not Bureaucratized.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

When recess was over at one of New York's nursery schools, two little girls, one five, one six, were missing.

The police were called in, the parents were notified, and a city-wide search was begun.

At three in the afternoon two little girls were seen sitting on a bench in Manhattan Square Park, several miles from the school. They looked lost and their faces were streaked with tears.

A kindly policeman took them to the nearest station, where their identity was quickly established and they were promptly returned to their homes.

When asked why they had wandered away and where they had intended to go, they replied that they wanted to see the world and that their teacher had told them that
"the best way to learn is by doing."

The school which these two youngsters attend is a so-called progressive school, and "learning by doing"
is part of progressive education.

Maybe these two tots are still too young to learn from their experience, but they did definitely express their opinion that the world really is not worth seeing if there is so much bother attached to it.

"Learning by doing" may be a good principle, and there isn't really anything so new or progressive about it.

"Experience is the best teacher"
is an age-old adage, and most of us have probably learned more that way about life than we ever did in school.

However, what you learn by doing is not always the right thing.
How can a child learn by doing whether what it does is right or wrong?

Those two kids lost their way and had to be rescued by someone who did know.

But, unfortunately, there are too many people who lose their way and have nobody to show them the way home.

The prisons, the hospitals, the poorhouses, the reformatories are full of people who "learned by doing" but who went astray because they had no one to guide them on the right road.

I have learned much by doing.
But first of all I had good parents and good teachers who taught me right from wrong.

Whatever I learned on my own caused me much pain and grief,
much disappointment and sorrow.

By all means learn by doing,
but first of all be sure you have a good road map.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WHEN THE SERVICE FATHER RETURNS

For months or years, the GI
father has dreamed of his return to his wife and children and for these same months or years his family have dreamed of his being with them again and to stay. When he at last arrives his dreams and theirs, in most instances, have been abundantly fulfilled. Indeed, after a few days or weeks it may have seemed that they never were separated.

In a few cases, however, the hoped-for joys by all concerned have been justly dimmed. In spite of the most conscientious efforts by the returning father to adjust himself to the wife and children and by them to him, it has not always been easy. In consequence, there may have arisen some misunderstandings, irritations, even heart-aches. Mind you, no one may have been to blame directly, and in almost every case in which not all
has gone well in the readjustment
each one is sure he or she is not to blame.

Feels Compassion
Any persons who stands off and observes objectively the problems which may have arisen and tries to put himself in the place of each member of the reunited family, feels a compassion for all of them.

At a public forum the other evening, a mother told me that, during the father's absence of nearly three years, their children now 6 and 2
gradually acquired certain responsibilities such as going alone several blocks away to take music lessons or do shopping for her. She felt sure these children have measured up well to these responsibilities. But the first time the returning father observed their doing these and similar things alone he would forbid them, even without first finding out what they had been accustomed to.

Apparently the father was thinking of these children as he knew them when he went away.

Of course, I advised her to be patient with the father and to try to help him understand when the children were not around just how much they had gained in bearing such responsibility since he went away.

Then, there is the father who has come home to a child six months or even two years old,
whom he had never seen, probably their first child. How different from the experience of the father who has seen the little child every day
from its birth.

Many a mother writes me of the returning father who obviously expects far too much of the little child and will readily spank him
at the slightest provocation, without taking over with her the type of cases when spanking may be desirable and the many other cases
when it is not. Experienced in strict discipline of the armed forces and distressed at seeing so many disobedient children, the father may be inclined to be extreme in his de-

Big Four Agrees To Hear Nations In Border Dispute

Yugoslavia And Italy To Have Voice In Problem Of Italian Borders

PARIS, May 1.—(INS)—The Paris conference of the Big Four foreign ministers, after a three-hour discussion of problems on the Yugoslavian and Austrian borders of Italy, agreed Tuesday to hear Italian and Yugoslavian government representatives in the near future.

Other than this decision, the foreign ministers of the U. S., Britain, France and the USSR reached no agreement.

Trieste, key Adriatic port sought by both Yugoslavia and Italy, was not mentioned in the council discussion.

The foreign ministers adjourned at five p. m. (12 p. m. EDT) to enable the delegates to attend a reception being given by French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault at the Quai d'Orsay.

Informed quarters meantime disclosed that U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes' "bombshell" proposal for 25-year treaties to insure disarmament of Germany and Japan calls for inclusion of China in supervising Japan.

Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan formally announced his support of Byrnes. In a statement Vandenberg declared:

"This is clearly an effective formula for dependable security against resurgence of Axis military aggression."

"I completely support Mr. Byrnes' able and courageous presentation of this matter."

Boys who enlist for brief terms to escape being drafted may be enlistees but they are not volunteers.

EYE SIGHT

Good eye sight is a very valuable possession. Perhaps it is not appreciated fully till it is lost.

It is very important to look after the eyes of young children. Usually defects can be remedied if they are found and treated early.

If the sight of one eye is defective, the child does not use the bad eye. Sometimes it becomes blind and the sight never comes back.

If a child's eye is crossed or squints on, shows any evidence of something wrong, there should be a medical examination right away.

The physician will be able to find what the trouble is and will know what should be done about it.

The eyes of all children are examined when they enter our schools.

If there is any sign of trouble the eyes should be examined long before school age.

Abe S. Abraham Now At Stanford For Medical Degree

Enrolls In Stanford University Medical School Preparing For Fall Term

Word has been received here that Abe S. Abraham, honorably discharged captain of Army Air Corps, formerly of 307 Phillips street, this city, has enrolled at the Stanford University at California, preparing to enter Stanford Medical school in the fall.

Mr. Abraham was graduated from Westminster college in 1938, having taken his pre-medical studies. He also completed two years of training at the Prospect Heights hospital in New York, and was engaged as a radio chemist, at the time he entered service. Mr. Abraham will now complete his studies and earn his medical degree at Stanford University.

BUY VACUUM CLEANER THAT BEST MEETS NEEDS

Before buying a vacuum cleaner, homemakers should become acquainted with the different types and the performance of each. Any cleaner is satisfactory for general household use, however each type does some jobs a little better than others.

There are two types of cleaners: the straight suction and the motor driven cylinder. (Straight suction cleaners are made in upright models and tank types. Because the nozzle is narrow without any moving parts, most of the cleaning action depends upon suction. Such a cleaner is good for removing surface dirt from floor coverings and bare floors and for cleaning draperies and upholstered furniture.

The cleaning ability of the straight suction type cleaner depends largely upon how it is handled. After proper nozzle adjustment, the upright is not affected by the method of handling.

The motor driven cleaners are all upright and employ suction and beating in cleaning. There are three types of construction: rotating brush, rotating agitator and rotating vibrator. Because of the beating action in loosening embedded dirt, the motor driven cleaner is especially good for heavily matted floor coverings. Upright cleaners with supported and partially supported nozzles raises the carpet slightly from the floor.

Since the pile of floor coverings varies in length, the nozzle of the cleaner must be adjustable to different heights. Manufacturers have various devices for adjusting the nozzle, most of them manually operated; however, the automatically operated is the most convenient.

Each cleaner should be evaluated in terms of the needs of the consumer. Another determining factor can well be the guarantee and service to be obtained when adjustments are needed.

According to announcement from Harrisburg, low bid on the projected construction of 2.27 miles of paving on route 18 in Mercer county. In Hickory township, was presented to the state highway department by J. A. Irwin, Washington county. The bid was for $217,820.80. The contract is one providing for a new route from Hermitage south to route 18.

State Police Head Warns Motorists On Hitch-Hikers

Danger In Giving Lifts To Unknowns Is Cited By Police Commissioner Wilhelm

HARRISBURG, May 1.—(INS)—Motorists were warned today by State Police Commissioner C. M. Wilhelm of the dangers of giving lifts to hitch-hikers.

He pointed out that while State police have received few reports recently of motorists being injured or robbed by hitch-hikers there was danger in picking up strangers.

He warned hitch-hikers: "Under the provisions of the motor vehicle code, it is a violation of the law for presumptive hitch-hikers to stand on the main traveled portion of any street or highway for the purpose of soliciting a ride from the driver of a vehicle."

"One of the purposes of this act is to prevent accident or injury to the pedestrian, especially when soliciting is found after daylight," he added.

Should Use Caution "In these days when accidents are prevalent, both pedestrians and motorists should use caution especially when crimes have resulted from picking up unknown persons," Wilhelm stated.

The section of the motor vehicle code covering solicitation of rides makes no mention, however, of hitch-hikers standing to the side of highways thumbing rides.

"Any person violating any of the provisions of this section (1031) shall, upon summary conviction before a magistrate, be sentenced to pay a fine of two ($2) dollars and costs of prosecution, and in default of the payment thereof, shall undergo imprisonment for not more than one (1) day," the code states.

Many trucking companies have forbade drivers to give "lifts" to hitch-hikers while some insurance companies have had legal difficulties in accidents involving a policy holder in whose car a hitch-hiker suffered injuries.

Lady Nearly Choked While Lying In Bed— Due To Stomach Gas

One lady said a few days ago that she used to be afraid to go to bed at night. She was swollen with stomach gas, which always got worse when she went to bed, and the gas would rise up in her throat after she lay down and would nearly choke her. She couldn't flatly lie down. She couldn't get on pillows. Recently this lady got ERB-HELP and now says gas is gone, stomach feels fine, bowels are regular and she can go to bed and sleep soundly.

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs, they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP Sold by All Drug Stores here in New Castle.

Most Of Dorothy Lamour's Stolen Jewels Recovered

BALTIMORE, Md., May 1.—(INS)—Police announced today the recovery of virtually all of the $28,000 in jewels stolen last week from film star Dorothy Lamour and the arrest of three suspects.

Miss Lamour and her husband, William Ross Howard III, identified rings and other jewels stolen April 25 from the actress' luggage shortly after her arrival in Baltimore from New York.

The star said only a brooch and a baby's ring were missing.

The small fortune in gems was recovered early this morning in a cache beneath a small gasoline tank in northwest Baltimore.

Recovery followed the seizure of the three suspects during the night. Names of the men, all Negroes, were withheld pending the preparation of charges against them.

An anonymous tip to Baltimore detectives led to the arrest of one man late last night.

Draft Boards Are Seeking To Supply 51,000 Men In May

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(INS)—Local draft boards today are attempting to supply 51,000 men for the army this month in the face of indications that the April draft call of 125,000 lagged badly.

Preliminary reports at the war department showed that inductions totaled only 17,000 during the first two weeks of April when calls were boosted to make up shortages accumulated since V-J day.

A selective service spokesman asserted that preliminary reports for April might be misleading. He likened them to "election returns," saying that the picture might change.

It was pointed out that the army fell short 145,000 recruits in the months since V-J day.

During February and March, selective service called for 102,000 men. Induction fell short by 8,034.

Schacht Tells Of Greeting To Hitler

NUERNBERG, May 1.—(INS)—Hjalmar Schacht, wartime president of the Reichsbank, told the Allied military tribunal today that he said "God protect you" to Adolf Hitler when the Fuehrer returned in triumph to Berlin after a visit to conquered Paris.

Schacht said his admonition was issued during "one of the strangest scenes in my life." He recalled that the beaming Hitler by-passed hundreds of dignitaries lined-up to welcome him home and said:

"Well, Dr. Schacht, what do you say now?"

Schacht told the court trying him for war crimes that although he felt Hitler wronged that he congratulated, all he could answer was the plea for "divine protection."

The witness said that he asked to be sent to the United States in 1940 to organize Nazi war propaganda there, but that Hitler turned down the suggestion.

GI Makes Will On Battlefield

SYRACUSE N. Y., May 1.—(INS)—Mrs. Martha Rose Platt was ruled today sole beneficiary of the estate of her son, Leonard. Before he died in battle December 23, 1944, Soldier Platt wrote this will:

"Dear Mother: I have seen so many of my friends die in this terrible ordeal.

"I have never made a will before. But now I believe it is about time to write one.

"I pray this will be lawful because it is the only way I know how to write one.

"I Leonard Platt, am of sound mind and do hereby write my will. I, Leonard Platt, leave all my belongings to my mother, Mrs. Martha Rose Platt."

He then listed his estate which included two Syracuse lots, a bank account, U. S. Savings bonds, $10,000 government insurance, personal effects, and back pay.

Would Place Ban On Justices Being In Political Work

Senator Bridges Would Ban Supreme Court Justices From All Other Activities

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(INS)—Sen. Bridges (R) N. H., proposed Tuesday that congress write a ban against any supreme court justice engaging in political activities or lending his name to public movements unless permitted by law or the court itself.

Bridges asked the senate to act promptly on a matter which he said was "the source of much concern" to the late Chief Justice Harlan F. Stone.

Bridges criticized the series of supreme court appointments of the late President Roosevelt whereby ex-administration officials later found themselves disqualified from certain cases because of the prior government activity on the issues involved.

But he flapped directly at political activity of justices, saying:

"There have been justices who have entered the market-place of politics. There have been justices who could be said to have sought popularity in their advocacies."

"There have been justices who have propagated through their utterances for particular national and international causes."

"It has been said that one associate justice, who in the statutory order of precedence is eligible to become acting chief justice, has assisted in spearheading the nationwide drive of a so-called political action committee."

Bridges, who said he "knew the mind" of the late chief justice, a New Hampshire native, urged congressional action before a new chief justice shall be qualified and a new associate justice appointed to fill the vacancy created by Stone's death.

Guarino Guarini was an Italian monk, mathematician and architect. He was born in Modena in 1624, and was appointed architect to the Duke of Savoy, Carlo Emanuele II, and designed many public and private structures in Turin. He died in 1683.

Expect Women To Cast 50 Per Cent Of Vote In State

HARRISBURG, May 1.—(INS)—Women were expected today to cast 50 per cent of the votes in the 1946 elections.

The estimate was made by spokesmen for both Republican and Democratic state committees on the basis of a 60 per cent wartime ratio of women's votes.

Women will continue to contribute a high percentage of the votes cast because the majority of returned service personnel are not registering, a Democratic committee spokesman said.

"Most assume they were automatically registered upon using absentee military ballots while in uniform, whereas, in reality, they were not registered at all," he explained.

"Only a very small percentage of veterans will be eligible to vote unless a concerted drive is conducted to get them out to register."

A Republican official predicted women's attention would focus on improvements recommended in the state's institutional and educational programs "on which much of the campaign is being waged." He forecast a light vote by both veterans and men and women still in uniform.

FASCISTS SEIZE RADIO STATION

Resurgence Of Fascist Activities Develops In Italy: Police Are Alerted

ROME, May 1.—(INS)—Resurgence activities forced Italian authorities to alert police today following the armed seizure of the Monte Mario radio transmitter by followers of the late Benito Mussolini.

Radio Rome said the transmitter was captured for a brief period by five masked fascists carrying hand grenades and machine guns.

They cowed personnel at the station, took possession of broadcasting facilities, and beamed a salute to Mussolini which called for all "underground fascists to stand together throughout Italy." The Fascist hymn was broadcast.

Seizure of the station caused an interruption of a news broadcast by a radio Rome announcer and produced an immediate sensation in the capital.

The Rome installation stopped broadcasting in an effort to locate the "interloper." While it remained silent, the Fascist broadcasters were heard to announce that Mussolini's body, stolen from a Milan grave a week ago, was "in safe hands."

The illegal broadcasters then attacked decision of the big four foreign minister in Paris.

An investigation of the incident was immediately ordered by the Italian interior minister. Police at the same time were ordered to be on the lookout for 50 fascists who escaped today from an internment camp in Southern Italy.

State Wheat Crop Not To Be Injured By April Drought

HARRISBURG, May 1.—(INS)—The State Agriculture Department predicted today that the April drought would have little damaging effect on Pennsylvania's sorely-needed wheat crop.

"Wheat came through the winter in much better condition than was expected and so far has withstood the lack of rain very well," a spokesman said.

The anticipated yield was 17,119,000 bushels, a 901,000 bushel increase over March estimates, he reported. A 3,119,000 bushel drop from last year's harvest was expected as the result of an acreage decrease due to extremely wet weather when fields were seeded last fall, he added.

"Generally speaking the winter wheat crop is in excellent shape," the official stated. "The stands are heavy and the plants are well rooted."

The State Agriculture Department said "very few" requests for loss appraisals had been received from farmers holding crop insurance policies.

A continued dry period might retard maturity of the grain, but would not necessarily damage it, said AAA Chairman Clyde A. Zehner.

Amish Farmers Close Issue Of Using Machinery

LANCASTER, Pa., May 1.—(INS)—House Amish bishops closed the door today on the controversy involving the use of machinery to boost production by re-emphasizing the sect's ban against tractors.

Bishop Jacob Lapp of Gordonville, Pa., landed the edict to end the discussion which followed when Clyde A. Zehner, of Harrisburg, state chairman of the Agricultural Adjustment Agency, recommended use of tractors.

The House Amish will not use tractors this year or in any of the immediate coming years, was Bishop Lapp's ruling.

House Amish bishops were unanimous in their endorsement of the senior bishop's mandate which upheld the religious tenets of their faith.

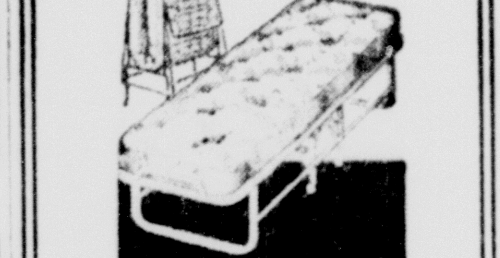

Several admitted, however, that the ban may prompt some "House Amish" to switch to the "Church Amish" sect which permits the use of power driven machinery on farms.

Butler Folks Crane Necks To Glimpse Becker At Work

BUTLER, May 1.—It was not an airplane zooming over the city that caused Butler residents, especially pedestrians in the vicinity of the courthouse, to look up today.

It was Carl Becker of New Castle, gilding the ball and painting the county's flagpole in Diamond park, preparatory to the forth-coming Memorial Day, that caused the ones below to crane their necks.

Becker tackled the job, one he has performed for many years, after painting the flagpole atop the Butler County National Bank. Despite his fifty-five years, Becker seems as interested in his profession now, (which we understand is not over-crowded) as he was thirty-five years ago, when he took up the perilous occupation of flagpole painting.

In addition to painting the pole, Becker will give the rope a protective treatment with oil, a detail he had to pass up when he painted the pole two years ago. At that time he could not obtain the proper material to give the rope a protective coat against the elements.

For painting the pole, gilding the ball and preparing the rope to resist the weather for at least two more years, Becker will be paid $20 including materials by the Butler County commissioners. The pole is sixty-five feet high.

Asked if he was ever seriously injured while at work, he said he had met with many accidents.

"But," he said, "with just the slightest touch of pride in his voice, I never broke a bone. I just figure that what is to be will be," he smiled, when asked if he didn't consider his a rather dangerous occupation.

Happy Welcome For Army Wives Reaching Berlin

BERLIN, May 1.—(INS)—A 28-piece GI band blared a welcome Tuesday to the happy first contingent of army wives and children to reach Berlin from the United States. Buses and drums swelled through Wannsee station, reached a city-scene when a special 12-car train pulled in, and leveled-off as eager couples embraced in the gloom of the terminal.

The train carried 66 wives and children. They were met by army husbands and fathers who had waited through the night for the big reunion scene.

The GI's chain-smokers to a man, delighted German observers by tossing away half-smoked cigarettes and cigars in their impatience. The Germans soon relieved them.

One WAC on the platform to greet the new arrivals couldn't get over the fact the wives were wearing. She looked from one woman to another, shook her head and exclaimed:

"These wonderful. Too, too wonderful!"

An MP who heard her nodded agreement, but remarked:

"Forget the hats. Look at those beautiful women!"

The wife and daughter-in-law of Lieut. Gen. Lucius Clay, deputy American commander in Germany, were among the arrivals.

Power-Making Utilities Will Be Hit By Coal Strike

HARRISBURG, May 1.—(INS)—Chairman John Higgins Jr. said Tuesday that more than 20 power-making utilities had reported on possible curtailment of service as a result of the coal strike.

He said replies to commission inquiries had been sent to the rates and research bureau to be correlated inasmuch as some utilities generate energy with hard or soft coals while others depended upon water power.

Higgins emphasized he was unable to estimate the overall power outlook but said the letters indicated several utilities had sufficient supplies for several weeks.

Reports of voluntary curtailment among some industrial consumers were made by several utilities, he added.

No brownout was contemplated now, Higgins said, although the PUC was empowered to declare one if necessary.

Parisian Paper Reports DeGaulle Sees Far East War

PARIS, May 1.—(INS)—The Paris newspaper "L'Etudiant Du Soir" quoted Gen. Charles DeGaulle as expressing belief that a new war will break out in the far east "within the next seven months."

A report to this effect was published in the newspaper "Die Tat" of Zurich, Switzerland, and purported to give the substance of a confidential conversation between the former French president and some anonymous visitor.

DeGaulle was reported to have said he expected France to be "occupied" by Soviet Russia in any such new war. He added his belief that his own retirement is not permanent and said he is working on a new constitution for France that will be "acceptable to the entire nation."

FOOD SAVING PLAN GAINING IN STATE

HARRISBURG, May 1.—(INS)—Clyde A. Zehner, chairman and food conservation director for the State Agriculture Department, said today that the food conservation drive had "caught on" with Pennsylvanians.

"Bakers report a big reduction in bread wastes," Zehner said. "They are not having day-old bread returned by stores anymore."

Some hotels and restaurants were saving as much as 12 loaves of bread a day by serving only one slice to each customer, he added.

Moving Day Here Again! Report Lot Of Activity Despite House Situation

Moving day is here again, but folks who are moving today are not moving because they want to, but it's just a plain case of have to.

Under normal circumstances, a few years back, previous to the war, people could scout around a bit in the city and find a suitable house that carried a "for rent" sign, make the necessary arrangements and move in. Things sure have changed.

According to a survey, local moving companies are busier today than the traditional "one armed paper-hanger" and unless you've had your request in for some little time, you couldn't get moved if you wanted to. One local company reported, "We are booked up solid for a full month" and still another, "pretty full schedule for today."

Where Are Houses?

You perhaps are wondering where all the empty houses are coming from and where the folks are going who are forced to vacate because former "G. I. Joe" wants to move in. It seems to be a complicated problem, almost one for the master minds. Frankly, we were wondering ourselves where those affected were to move to.

The records show that about 95% of the people that are moving this May Day, have purchased property some time back and the tenant in the house that they bought, has just found a place to move to and is able to take possession of it.

Those that lost out in the "squeeze play" as the sport writers put it, have to call up the storage companies and make arrangements to store their furniture until their future home is empty and check in at the hotel or perhaps move in with some congenial in-law.

Thinkin' about moving? Better quit thinking about it until you have to.

Have Important Roles In Senior High School Play

Jean Ardinga Thomas Sansone

Casper Milquetoast himself with the stage name of Hercules Hawser will timidly play an important role as "Ma's New Husband" in the play of that name coming this week to the Senior High school in a public performance. Thomas Peter Sansone as Hercules will be in an all-evening quandary as to whether to be a man or a mouse. No help to him in his uncertainty is his prospective step-daughter, Lucy Dimmore, played by Jean Louise Ardinga. Lucy with her sister and like-minded young friends concoct a sure-fire plot to kindle unquenchable fires of jealousy in the timid soul of the aspiring suitor. How far they succeeded but why they did not, makes much of an evening's comedy.

Thomas Peter Sansone is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dominick Sansone of South Jefferson street. Jean Louise Ardinga is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Ardinga, of Maryland avenue.

Edwin Lewis' Organ Recital Impressive

Music Club Sponsors Program At First Methodist Church On Tuesday Evening

A brilliant and successful recital was heard last evening when the Music club presented Edwin Lewis in an organ program at the First Methodist church. The recital had a quality of freshness, spontaneity and vigor, and made a deep impression on the audience which filled the auditorium.

This marked Mr. Lewis' first appearance in recital in New Castle since his return from the armed forces. His absence can scarcely have impaired the devotion of his admirers for the applause which greeted him could not have been more cordial.

Mr. Lewis' playing was characterized by spirit, finish and delicacy as to detail of registration. His program opened with a Suite in F by Corelli in the early classic style.

The French school of organ playing was represented in the second group which contained the colorful Arabesque by Vienne, followed by the sparkling Toccata by Mersaux.

Dreams from the Seventh Sonata by Guilmette and the brilliant Fanfare by Lemmens completed the group. These were performed with a real grasp of their varied content.

Later half of the recital contained works by the American composers, Eric DeLamarter, Pietro Yon, Charles Albert Stebbins, James H. Rogers and Garth Edmundson.

The closing group of compositions of Garth Edmundson was of particular interest to local music lovers, as Mr. Edmundson holds an enviable position among American composers. Included were Reister, a flowing melody written in a reflective mood, Two Preludes on XVI Century Tunes; Now Thank We All Our God and The Woods and Fields are Sleeping, and closed with the brilliant Toccata on From Heaven on High.

In a recent national survey of American organists, this composition was awarded first place. The Toccata, which makes great technical demands on the player, was played brilliantly with utmost skill by Mr. Lewis, and called into power the full strength of the organ.

Mr. Edmundson's remarkable genius for combining themes with an originality of harmonic treatment was in evidence in this group which Mr. Lewis played with technical and imaginative mastery. Mr. Edmundson who was present was compelled to rise to acknowledge the applause which greeted his works.

Ushers were Mrs. Delbert Fletcher, Miss Mary Louise Griffith, Miss Lois Martin Smith, and Mrs. Dorothy Patch Perdue.

Altogether the recital was one of those events which come too seldom. It ranked distinctly among the more distinguished events of the season and merited the hearty enthusiasm it occasioned.

New Postwar Peak For Retail Prices

Bureau Of Labor Statistics Says Price Index 32 Per Cent Higher Than In 1939

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(INS)—The Bureau of Labor Statistics reported today that average retail prices reached a new postwar peak in mid-March and the consumers' price index is now 32.0 per cent higher than in August, 1939, the month before the beginning of the war.

With higher prices for most principal items in the family budget, the consumers' price index advanced 0.5 per cent between February 15 and March 15 to 130.2 per cent of the 1935-39 average.

Food bills for moderate-income city families rose 0.4 per cent during the month after having dropped 1.3 per cent between mid-December and mid-February, clothing costs increased 1.7 per cent and are now 52.6 per cent higher than in August, 1939 while residential rents were boosted 0.1 per cent during the first quarter of 1946, the first hike since December, 1944.

The bureau said that supplies of medium and inexpensive quality apparel continued low, although retailers in most cities indicated that they had received some shipments of pre-war garments during the month.

Congressman Says Navy Dumped Food

Oregon Representative Asserts That Canned Food And Other Salvageable Stuff Dumped

PORTLAND, Ore., May 1.—(INS)—The Navy stood accused today of dumping good food while millions face starvation overseas.

The charge was voiced by Rep. Walter Norblad (R. Ore.) who displayed canned Navy food salvaged from the city dump at Astoria, his hometown, Norblad declared.

"While American civilians are depriving themselves of food to assist starving Europe, while the administration is crying for food for Europe it is throwing away canned goods and meat—very substantial food which could materially alleviate suffering abroad."

In the basement of one home in Astoria I saw three dozen new nylon-bristled paint brushes of the kind that I understand sell for about $12.25; unopened five-gallon cans of paint; cans of turpentine, also unopened; untouched cartons of oatmeal; two cartons of dry cereal; a carton containing 50 to 100 packages of powdered soap, and a new brass fire nozzle worth about $25—all salvaged from the city dump.

Norblad said the pile salvaged from the dump also included: Canadian bacon, triple-wrapped in paper and then wrapped in burlap; a carton of toilet paper; canned synthetic lemon powder; five-pound cans of powdered whole milk; perfect tins of corned beef and corned lamb; cans of dehydrated cranberries; and cans of pork.

Capt. H. L. Groskopf, commandant of 19th Fleet units, said the stores undoubtedly had been surveyed and "condemned as unfit for human consumption."

Britain, America Shielding Fascism, Says Moscow Paper

MOSCOW, May 1.—(INS)—So-called reactionary circles in Britain and America were accused today by the Moscow publication New Times of shielding remnants of fascist forces in the United Nations Security Council.

The publication asserted that "the forces of fascism would have been liquidated everywhere already if they had not enjoyed the protection of reactionary circles in the largest capitalist countries."

The article charged "fascist cliques" in Britain and America of attempting to undermine international peace.

Prove Our Scotch Good As Imported, In Blindfold Test

Slip Tests By Connoisseurs May Cut Off Huge Shipments Of Foreign Whisky

CHICAGO, May 1.—(INS)—Blindfold tests by ten connoisseurs today had proved to the satisfaction of the Illinois liquor control commission that American-made Scotch whisky is just as good as the imported brands.

Approval of the commission indicated a possible rush by other states to back the domestic product, thus cutting off a large portion of the 10,000,000 gallons of Scotch shipped annually to America from abroad.

The elaborate tests were conducted yesterday in the plush quarters of the commission. Ten men, all considered experts on Scotch whisky, were ushered in and took six healthy belts at the amber liquid.

Amid great sipping and smacking of lips, the majority of the testers posted poor batting averages. This, the commission argued, proved even connoisseurs could not tell the difference between imported or domestic Scotch whisky.

Chemical Tests
Previous chemical tests had proved that in proof, total acids, volatile acids and esters the better Scotch brands were very similar to imported Scotch.

At stake in the tests was Illinois' decision to strike the name "American-type" or "imitation" from domestically-produced Scotch.

Heretofore, it was believed that "imitation" labels required by law had handicapped the sales of the domestic product.

Chairman Charles J. Fleck of the liquor commission said after the tests: "The tests definitely prove there is no appreciable difference between the two products. American Scotch is every bit as good as the overseas product. It just looks as if the American public hasn't been drinking the domestic product because it wasn't labeled by law as imitation Scotch or Scotch-type whisky."

President Signs Two Measures To Aid Philippines

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(INS)—President Truman on Tuesday signed the Philippine trade act and the Philippine rehabilitation measure designed to aid the commonwealth in its recovery from war devastation.

The measures were signed in the president's office in the presence of Sen. Tydings (D) Md., and Gen. Carlos Romulo, the Philippine commissioner.

In signing the legislation, Mr. Truman took exception to a provision in one of the bills in which congress provided that no war damage payment in excess of $500 should be made until an executive agreement was entered into between the president of the United States and the Philippines.

The president said, however, that he was happy to approve the two measures "which give notice to the people of the Philippines and to the entire world that we are redeeming our promises to the heroic Philippine people."

Unprecedented Legislation

He said: "This is unprecedented legislation for the United States, but the situation itself is unprecedented. We are about to grant political independence to these people. Today we are giving them a chance to preserve and develop their nation on a temporary basis of trade preference. Political independence without economic stability would be totally ineffective."

The president said that the two bills "constitute the heart of the program for Philippine rehabilitation and recovery."

He said that the measures provide for war damage payments to those who suffered war losses in the Philippines as well as for reconstruction of public property, adding: "We are providing for the establishment, through an executive agreement, of an unprecedented plan of preferential trade relations with the Philippines to last for 28 years."

"We have never entered into similar agreement with any foreign government."

State USES Office To Send Speaker To Employment Meeting

Paul E. Murphy, assistant state veterans' employment representative from Harrisburg, will be the speaker at a meeting of employers of Lawrence county which has been scheduled for Tuesday evening, May 7, in the Lawrence County Court House.

The meeting is being sponsored by the Veterans' Advisory Council and the United States Employment Service in order to find ways of overcoming the employment difficulties being faced by a majority of the veterans returning to this country.

Placements have been dropping lower, according to USES records for the past few weeks, although it is believed that more job openings would be available if an effort were made to find them. On-the-job training and apprenticeship training programs could also be used to expand the employment horizon, the USES states.

Anderson Wants 'Self-Sustaining' Agriculture Plan

Secretary Advocates Farming On Level With Other American Business Groups

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 1.—(INS)—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson advocated a "self-sustaining agriculture" for the post-war years contributing to national prosperity and reaping its share of benefits.

Anderson called for farming "on a level with all other American groups," and "able to work with business and labor on equal terms for the benefit of all."

In an address before the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, Anderson warned against abuse and waste of the "thin layer of topsoil that feeds us," and said long-range interest in America's future and abundance calls for soil conservation.

The secretary said a self-sustaining agriculture should operate at a fair level of profit without consumer subsidies, price controls or continuous price supports or income payments, with certain exceptions for the current emergency. He said: "It would operate on a basis of sustained yield, not obtaining current production and income through drains on future productivity."

Anderson said a reasonably stable price level for farmers is needed as well as assurance of adequate incomes for farm families, adding: "A self-sustaining agriculture must not only meet the needs of farm people, but also the needs of the rest of the nation by supplying adequate supplies of foods and fibers and good markets for the products of industry."

Anderson called today's agriculture a "30 billion dollar industry" and said national full employment is vital to its success.

Garden Notes

By Lewis C. Dayton, County Agent

SET TRANSPLANTS CAREFULLY; KILL CABBAGE INSECTS

Proper handling helps give good transplants a prompt start in the garden.

In digging holes for the plants, use the hoe, rather than a dibble or planting stick, in order to give plant roots room for a good start.

The hole should be large enough in depth and breadth to suit the plant, with the ground loose at the base.

Stem plants should be set deeper than they stood in the flat. After placing them in the hole, draw loose soil over the roots, firm it, add water, and when it settles fill the hole with loose earth.

Gardeners are urged to select adapted plant varieties which are resistant to disease and to destroy insects which attack cabbage and other plants. To control lice or aphids which sometimes make their appearance on cabbage plants unusually early if the weather is warm, gardeners are urged to dip their plants before planting or spray them after they are set.

A solution for treating the cabbage plants can be made from a teaspoon of nicotine sulphate (40 per cent) and a handful of soap flakes mixed in a gallon of water. This solution should touch only the tops of the plants, not the roots. The solution will kill the aphids, or plant lice, even those which have nested inside the embryo crown. Untreated cabbage plants soon show the effects of the moisture-sucking aphids, which attack the under sides of the leaves, causing them to curl up as the moisture is removed.

Vets Can Choose Agriculture Work

On-The-Job Training Program Has Been Established For Lawrence County Vets

Farm training in vocational agriculture is offered to veterans in Lawrence county through the cooperative efforts of the county superintendent of schools, the Veterans Administration, and the Lawrence County Board of School Directors.

Instruction by Robert Elder, vocational agriculture instructor for veterans is adapted to the desires and needs of the individual veteran. Already apprentice training in vegetable forcing, propagation, and landscape gardening as well as in dairy farming is in progress.

The farm mechanics shops and facilities of the several vocational agriculture departments in the county will be available for group class instruction.

Several veterans operating their own farms are taking training in general livestock and in dairy farming and poultry raising.

Four hours of class instruction will be arranged along with two hours of at-the-farm training per week which is required as part of the full time program on the farm.

Veterans interested in learning more regarding this type of work and opportunity should contact Mr. Elder of James Fink at the County Superintendent of Schools office, Room 201, Court House annex, or the Veterans Administration, Room 201, Lawrence Savings and Trust building.

AUTO DEATHS NEAR PREWAR RECORD

CHICAGO, May 1.—America's traffic fatality rate is almost back to its peak pre-war level, the National Safety Council reported today.

In the first three months of this year, 8,120 persons were killed in motor vehicle accidents, the council said, compared with the record of 8,250 for the corresponding period in 1941, the last pre-war year.

On the basis of present figures and seasonal trends, the council estimated 38,000 persons would die in automobile accidents this year. The all-time high of 39,969 was recorded in 1941.

Three-Day State Conference Concludes With Sessions Here On Tuesday

Concluding the 18th annual conference of the Pennsylvania sections, National Council of Jewish Women, officers were elected Tuesday afternoon in The Castleton hotel, to serve for the coming year. With the installation of the officers the conference ended.

Mrs. Alfred Rosenstein of Philadelphia was named honorary state president. Mrs. I. M. Shane of Lancaster, president; Mrs. Philip Abraham of Greensburg, first vice president; Mrs. Jack Reese of Wilkes-Barre, second vice president; Mrs. Charles Shapiro of Erie, recording secretary; Mrs. Arnold Cohen of Lancaster, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Samuel Schwartz of New Castle, treasurer, and the three directors named are Mrs. Leon Rheinheimer, Philadelphia, Mrs. Louis Finkelshtein of Johnstown and Mrs. Joseph R. Silverstein of Pittsburgh.

Installation Service
Mrs. Leon Rheinheimer of Philadelphia acted as the installation officer at the service. At the noon luncheon session, "Progress in Social Welfare" was the discussion subject with Nathan M. Katz the speaker at the afternoon session when "Women's Place in the Current Legislative Scene" was the subject.

Mr. Katz discussed foreign and domestic relations, and said the United States is the only nation which has the economic power and wealth to prevent social demoralization in the world. He urged the women to take an active interest in legislation pending before state and national bodies.

Before the gavel fell, ending the conference, many expressions of satisfaction were heard upon the success of the conference, the precision with which the arrangements moved and the results accomplished. Mrs. Daniel Fisher was the general chairman of arrangements with Mrs. William L. Cosel, co-general chairman. With their chairman and committee members the ladies worked out a program that had continuity, interest and challenge. From the conference is expected to come a renewed interest in education, social welfare and an even more intensive interest in aid to the displaced persons in Europe.

Urge Residents Of State To Aid In Saving Foods

HARRISBURG, May 1.—(INS)—Pennsylvanians were called upon today by the state health department to help prevent starvation deaths of persons in famine-stricken lands by saving food at the family table.

"The most timely and urgent nutrition message to all Pennsylvanians is to 'help save food to fight famine,'" the department's nutrition division reported. "Between now and July 500 million people face famine."

"If every American saves even one slice of bread daily, a million people in devastated countries can be fed for half a year," the department added.

A 12-point program was outlined by the department including the use of less fats and oils and the substitution of potatoes for wheat cereal, toast or biscuits at breakfast. The program also urged that Pennsylvanians eat less bread, "waste nothing," increase servings of plentiful foods, particularly oatmeal, cornmeal and potatoes and the substitution of fresh fruit for pastry desserts.

Pelosi Brothers End U. S. Service

Mrs. Ben Pelosi of 203 South Ashland avenue has been made glad that now her four sons have returned home from U. S. service. Together they have served in all for 14 years.

Bennie, the first to leave home, volunteered for the Coast Guard service in the fall of 1942, was recently honorably discharged, having served in a number of weeks at home before taking up residence in Johnstown, N. Y., with a sister.

Rocco volunteered in the air corps about the same time and was honorably discharged in February. He will soon join his wife Linda in Galveston, Tex.

The other two brothers, Clem and Frankie, were in the naval service; Clem was a yeoman 1-c and the latter a storekeeper 2-c. They were in the South Pacific service almost two years, and were recently honorably discharged at Bainbridge naval separation center. Clem has returned to his former employment with the Penna. Railroad in Youngstown.

Paul G. Fisher Ends Naval Air Service

After receiving his honorable discharge at St. Pedro, Calif., Paul G. Fisher A. R. M. 3-c has returned home.

He had completed thirty-three months in the naval air service, fifteen of which was in the Pacific. He was attached to the patrol duty naval air corps.

Paul was awarded the Asiatic-Pacific Ribbon and the Victory medal. He is a graduate of New Castle high school, class of June, 1943, and prior to joining the service was in the employ of the Penna. railroad.

His brother Jack Fisher S. 2-c is stationed at Jacksonville, Fla. Until recently both young men had resided all their lives in the ward. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond G. Fisher of 716 Young street.

She received her honorable discharge from the service on January 8, 1946, and since her return has been residing at the home of her mother, Mrs. Charles McClelland of North Beaver township.

METHODISTS PLAN SPECIAL SERVICES

Beginning on Tuesday evening, May 7, at 7:45 and continuing through Friday evening, May 10, a series of special services will be held in the Mahoningtown church, under the theme "New Life in the Home and Church." Special music and group singing will be part of the services.

CLEANING UP TIME

Back of the Mahoningtown post-office and the adjoining business places, cleaning up was going on Tuesday afternoon and things were looking spic and span. A lady also got the urge and swept up some in the alley and the man with the large truck also threw that on. Soon the lady made a deal to get her ashes hauled away, too.

The truck man stated that there were less ash heaps remaining in Mahoningtown than any other part of the city.

NORTH ASHLAND GRADED

We heard the chug-chugging of an engine. It was the city roller on North Ashland avenue. Tuesday afternoon, city employees were finishing scraping and rolling the street and it looked a nice job. COUNTRY WAS STRIPPED BARE Assistance rendered by the people of America saved the lives of a number of the people of Poland, Dr. C. S. Anderson, head of the department of agriculture at Penn State College, told members of the local service clubs, in discussing the conditions he found there at a luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Tuesday noon, when he appeared as the guest of the Lions Club. He was introduced by James Pink, advisor in vocational agriculture for Lawrence, Butler and Beaver counties, a member of the club.

The stated that a large quantity of the used clothing given by the people of this country arrived in time to keep many from freezing to death, and food supplies which were distributed by his agency, also kept many alive.

Conditions there when he left last winter were deplorable, however, he stated.

Big Handicap

One of the big handicaps in restoring Poland is the lack of transportation. Virtually every bridge in Poland was destroyed by the Germans or Russians; all the rolling stock was taken from the railroads; and the highways were torn up. There are no automobiles, virtually everything has been confiscated by the Germans and Russians or ruined beyond repair.

Moral standards are at very low ebb. Thievery and pillage are the rule, rather than the exception. Stores are looted every night. He told of the spare tire being stolen out of the trunk of his car, while under the guard of two Russian soldiers. There is no use complaining about such things, because the civil authorities take no action.

The Germans took down all street signs and place names when they invaded the country in 1939. These were later replaced by the Russians with Russian names so that one has a difficult time in finding his way about, particularly when a city or town has been destroyed by shell-fire and bombing. While the Russians themselves have done considerable looting, he stated that he presumed they were not a great deal worse than the British and our own soldiers, as he had heard reports of similar activities by our troops.

Quantities of seeds, fertilizer, and agricultural implements are arriving in the country, and he was of the opinion that conditions will be greatly improved after the summer is over, as the Poles are noted for their industry. All large land holdings have been confiscated and distributed among the peasants, he stated. He told how the Polish patriots stole seeds and planted them virtually on the battlefields, so that things were growing when the Germans were finally driven out.

Big Black Market

There is a tremendous Black Market in Poland. One can buy everything he wants there, and it is licensed by the government, which calls it the Free Market, he stated. He himself had to live off the Black Market, he said, the cost being around $24 per day.

While the Poles hate both the Germans and the Russians, they seem to hate the Russians most, because they are the ones who are now in charge. Disease is everywhere and many epidemics rage. He found great numbers of people living out in the open, without protection. Shoes and clothing are still badly needed, he stated, along with medicines. People are without so many things. He told of seeing a man searching in ruins for just one dish, so both he and his wife could eat together. Virtually everything he took with him to Poland, he had given away before his return. He finally parted with his sleeping bag, to enable a man to make a suit from it, so he could live.

Schools have been changed over and are in charge of the Russians. Children in high school can elect the language they wish to study next to Polish, and the Russians have seen to it, that no English or French teachers are available, so they have to study Russian.

Russia cannot be expected to withdraw from Poland for some time, he stated. While he had little difficulty getting in, and was shown virtually everything he wanted to see on his way into Russia and Poland, his party was watched all the time by the Russians and on the way out, he was not given his passport until he was on the plane leaving Russia.

Touching briefly on Iran, he stated that the oil question there was just a smokescreen, that what Russia really wanted was an outlet to the Mediterranean.

Hand Lawn Mowers And Mattresses To Be Higher Priced

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(INS)—The Office of Price Administration announced today that retail prices of hand lawn mowers and wire-tied inner-spring mattresses are going up.

The agency said the consumers' prices for hand lawn mowers would advance between nine and 10 per cent and that retail prices for the inner-spring mattresses would be increased two per cent.

Both retail price boosts result from price increases granted to manufacturers to compensate them for added costs.

This much soup pays the freight on a whole can!

YOU'LL find mighty few bargains these days, but here's one that's right in your kitchen cupboard! Next time you open a can of soup, measure a spoonful. One spoonful represents the average cost of shipping the whole can of soup by railroad from the canner to you.

Freight charges on most other products are equally small. Today, railroads receive an average of less than one cent for moving 2000 pounds of freight one mile.

But, as materials, fuel and wages continue to increase in cost, it is inevitable that freight rates must be adjusted upwards, so the railroads can continue to provide the service all America expects and needs for prosperity.

Renovating Is Under Way At Cascade Park

With the arrival soon of traditional opening time for Cascade park, boys and girls and even the one time boys and girls who have perhaps added a few more years to their life but not to their youthful spirits, will really open their eyes with amazement when they see the transformation that a few gallons of paint and a little "elbow grease" has wrought at the popular amusement spot.

From the time spring arrived until the present moment, city workmen under the direction of Chris Coulthard, park manager, and Owen Fox, city forester, have really been making the winter's accumulation of dirt fly in order to put the park in "apple pie" order, getting ready for the great influx of visitors who will celebrate the first peace time summer since 1941.

A reporter arrived just in time to catch Billy Glenn making a last minute inspection of his trusty peanut wagon, which has made him famous for miles around. Billy reported that everything was just about completed for the resumption of business when the park officially opens.

Transformation Seen
What a transformation has been wrought on the old Dodgeville! The building that shelters the little cars that everyone clamors to ride on when in operation, has been literally torn apart by the men who expect to operate the concession for the summer. The cars, too, have been dismantled, rejuvenated and repainted and will perhaps run as smooth as any peanut wagon.

The merry-go-round will not be missing when the park re-opens for the summer, because what would a park be like if it did not have a merry-go-round to attract the kiddies.

One thing that will be missing this year, for those who have been accustomed to visiting it is the greenhouse that stood just a little to the south of Mr. Coulthard's office. Earlier in the spring, Mr. Coulthard had begun preparation for the flower lovers of the park visitors by planting his usual "flats" of pansies and marigolds, but somehow a fire got started and burned the greenhouse down and somewhat set back the flower planting efforts.

Most of the other attractions in the East Side amusement place are in line for a face lifting just as soon as the workmen can get around to doing the job and by opening day they will present to the public a park that anyone should be proud of.

County Teachers Meet For Dinner

North Beaver School Host To 180 At P. S. E. A. Dinner Tuesday Evening

One hundred and eighty county school teachers met in the gymnasium of the North Beaver township consolidated school in Mt. Jackson for a dinner-meeting of the county P. S. E. A. Tuesday evening. Girls from the vocational department of the Mt. Jackson school cooked and served the delicious turkey dinner under the supervision of Miss Martha Matthews. Tables were spring-like with flowers and timely favors.

Fullerton Is Speaker

Formerly a teacher in the Lawrence County schools, W. Sharp Fullerton, state assemblyman, was the speaker of the evening, discussing "Teaching and Future Legislation". Another outstanding event of the evening was the oration "Plea for Peace" given by Louis Julian, who won third place in the state oratorical contest of the Pennsylvania Music and Forensic League recently.

Group singing was led by George Kyle, music supervisor at Mt. Jackson, with Miss Grace Raney as accompanist. Violin solos by Irene Yelkovich and Emory Dietrich opened the program, with a piano solo by Bob Brown and a vocal solo by Paul McCullough following. Dorothy Strohecker, Alice Gwinn, and Marian Paden formed a girls' trio to sing "Wonderful One". Mrs. Ruth Stearns gave a reading, after which the group heard a boys' octet composed of: Leland McCullough, Glenn Gwinn, Raymond Klammer, Howard Bader, Sam Ralston, George Thompson, Wendell Butler and Paul McCullough.

Miss Grace Reed Presides

Mary McBride and Marian Paden entertained with a piano duet, "Deep Purple". At the end of the program, Miss Grace Reed, president of the group, took over the meeting at which Chandler McMillin, supervising principal of Bessemer school, gave a resume of the P. S. E. A. December convention in Harrisburg and made some suggestions for the benefit of the organization.

J. Arthur Turek, vice president of the county P. S. E. A. and delegate to the December convention, gave his report, and speaking for the secretary who was absent, pointed out the importance of attending the P. S. E. A. meetings at Ben Franklin Junior high school today.

Success of the dinner meeting is due to the efforts of the faculty and supervising principal of the North Beaver school, who planned and prepared the dinner and the program both. Miss Grace Reed, president of the group, was general chairman.

Makes Character Dolls As A Hobby

DENVER.—(INS)—Dolls are just toys to most persons—but to Mrs. Ida Miller of Denver, they are a lifetime hobby.

Mrs. Miller makes dolls—each one representing an individual character. Some of them are based on fictional characters, those of Dickens' novels, for example. Others are based on portraits of famous people, living and dead.

Her favorites, however, are what she calls her "character dolls." They are wax creatures of types—an old pioneer couple, or characters out of a Godey fashion book of the 18th century.

She began her hobby in Panama 10 years ago.

The return of Luboshutz and Nemenoff is almost a request performance by those who have previously heard them. Nathan Milstein is at the peak of his mastery and stands in the front row of the world's greatest violinists. The world acclaim of the Icelandic Singers make them a must in your music menu for the coming season. Prepare to enjoy these four great concerts. Guard those you love... Give to conquer Cancer

CANCER strikes all ages. It takes fathers . . . and with them the family's means of livelihood. It takes mothers . . . just when they are needed to care for a family of little ones. Even little children are often its victims.

Unless we do something about it, 17,000,000 Americans now living will die of cancer.

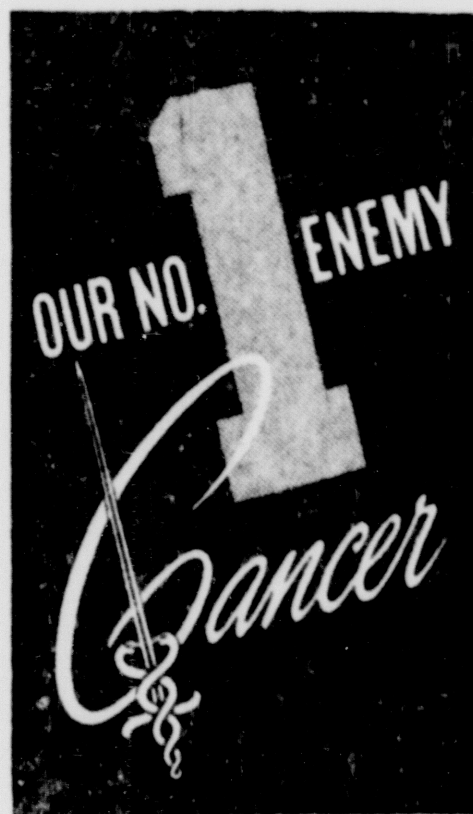

Cancer is not always incurable. Thirty to 50% of those who now die of cancer could be saved if they had recognized the "danger signals" of cancer and obtained proper treatment in time.

By a gift to the American Cancer Society, you can help save thousands of people who will otherwise die needlessly of cancer. And you can help medical science in its comprehensive attack on the cause of cancer.

Your gift to fight cancer will be used in these three ways:

1. To spread the knowledge that cancer is frequently curable if discovered early.
2. To help provide the most modern facilities everywhere for the care and treatment of cancer patients.
3. To make possible a comprehensive research program to determine the cause, prevention and cure of cancer.

No one is safe from cancer—man, woman or child. Give to fight cancer that you, your neighbor and your loved ones may live.

Bob Feller Pitches No-Hitter Against Yankees

Rapid Robert Fans 11 Yanks, Indians Win 1-0

Hayes Hits Homer In Ninth To Give Feller Win Over 'Murderers Row'

PIRATES DEFEAT PHILLIES 4 TO 1

NEW YORK, May 1.—(INS)—Two weeks ago, the word from the west said it was too bad about Bob Feller. He was a swell guy, a great comfort to his ma and a pitcher whose consummate skill had the authentic aura of enduring greatness.

Yet here he was—they said—already headed down over the hill at the age of 27, with the heat gone from his fireball and the zip which once burned the letters from the batter's bosom strangely missing.

But that's all changed today, with the celebrated Joe DiMaggio, Keller, Henrich and other great hitters of the New York Yankees willing to testify that if Feller has gone back to the Cape Hatteras is an inlet and Niagara Falls runs staunchly up-hill.

Feller Convincing
For Cleveland's great are not only convinced the Yankees yesterday, but 38,000 of their rabid fans that he's the Feller of old by blowing down the entire New York batting order for nine innings without a run or a hit. For eight innings, neither side scored. Then Frank Hayes relieved the run famine with a homer off Floyd Bevens in the first of the ninth, giving Feller and the Indians a historic 1-0 decision.

Hardly a single Yankee offered the Cleveland defense a hard chance and 11 of the former went down dazedly on strikes. Feller walked five and another got on through an error. But so well nigh flawless was he that the Yankees were made to look inept.

They hit only two balls beyond the infield, harmless flies in the fifth and sixth innings, and Boudreau's assist on Stirrweis at the outset of the game was the only difficult play the Cleveland defense was asked to make.

Red Sox Advance
It also gave the Boston Red Sox an opportunity to draw two full games ahead of the Yankees in the American league race, which the Sox wasted no ceremony about doing. They beat the world champion Detroit Tigers, 4-0.

In the National league, meantime the Dodgers were dropped out of the lead by reason of their 2-1 defeat in 11 innings by the champion Cubs.

Ed Head, making his initial appearance since pitching the season's first no-hitter some days ago, had the Cubs shut out until two out in the ninth.

Pirates Beat Phils
Both the Boston-Cincinnati and the New York-St. Louis games were rained out, with the Cardinals thus being franked into the league leadership by a half-game. The Pirates, meanwhile, were pummeling the prostrate Phillies, 4-1.

The Athletics actually won a ball game—with the Browns a surprised victim, 12-8—but Buddy Lewis' seventh inning double gave the Senators a 3-2 edge over the White Sox.

Elks Golfers Get Organized

Plan 12-Team League At Sylvan Heights Course This Summer, Wagner Chairman

New Castle Elks Club golfers held a roundup of players at the Sylvan Heights course last night, with over 150 turning out. It was reported by George Wagner, chairman of the Elks golf committee. The men have been grouped into two divisions, American and National, with six teams in each division.

League play will get under way on Tuesday evening, May 7th, Chairman Wagner announced.

Sitzinger Medalist

Last evening the Elks played a round of golf as a start and then had a lunch in the clubhouse, with George Sitzinger the medalist with a 39, and the following winners in the blind boxes—Henry Broad, Fred Alexander, Arch Thompson, Jesse Duford, Sr.

Chairman Wagner announced that the Elks golfers are looking forward to another gigantic roundup of all Elks golfers in Western Pennsylvania at the Heights course later in the summer.

Teams and Captains

The following teams will take part in the league together with the captains of each team:

American Division: Tigers, Al Garvin; Wildcats, Bob Hamilton; Lions, Andy Anderson; Bulldogs, Jack Dagnone; Panthers, Paul Cuba, Sr.; Gophers, Tom Armstrong.

West Siders To Play Tonight

Tonight at 6 o'clock at the Ryantown field the West Side Tigers will battle the Ryantown team in a pre-league warmup, with Ryantown giving their newly created field a try-out.

Thursday the Tigers will play the Columbus club at the E. & A. field, in the seventh ward, and Friday the Tigers will play the "Gas House" team at West Pittsburgh. It was announced by Manager Len Gilbert.

Junior Rifle Club Thursday

Thursday, May 2, the New Castle Junior Rifle club will have a qualification shoot at the Cathedral range at 8 o'clock. The purpose of the match is to decide who will go to Pittsburgh to represent New Castle in the junior Heist matches on May 11.

All members should make it a point to attend the qualification match Thursday evening according to Secretary R. G. McCartney.

Castlewood Nine Desires Contests

Castlewood, a Lawrence county league club, would like pre-season contests with any of the city league outfits for Thursday, Friday or Saturday.

Managers interested in booking the Castles should call Paul Cunningham, business manager, 109-J. The county club will play either at home or away.

Manager "Jim" Martin announced today that the Bessemer Cementers will engage the South Hills club in a baseball exhibition tilt Thursday evening at the cement city field. Tonight the Martin men square off against the Lawrence Indians in another pre-season contest.

Forest A.C. To Play Two Games

Forest A. C. softball team will play the Spencers at Gaston Park tonight in a pre-league battle and will meet the Duke of Abuzzi team at Marshall field Thursday, it was announced. All games will start at five o'clock.

For games with the Forest A. C. call 2676-J and ask for Nickie Ross.

City Leaguers Meet Tonight

Possibility Exists City League May Postpone Opening For Week At Least

Faced with the possibility of having to postpone their opening games at least a week or more, the City baseball league managers and officials will have an important meeting tonight at eight o'clock at Carm's Place on West Washington street, with C. F. Bugs' Walther, president of the loop in charge.

It is hoped that the league can get started next Sunday, May 5th, but several of the playing fields will need more work done by the managers and players. The city has done a swell job so far in fixing up the fields, but have had very little co-operation from the clubs themselves.

Get Contracts In
A schedule for 1946 will in all probability be submitted to the league tonight by the schedule committee. All contracts should be turned in tonight if the league is to open Sunday.

Interest in the league is growing every day. Indications point to some fine ball games held this summer, providing the teams do their part. It is no simple matter to run a 12-team league without the proper kind of support.

Card Altered In County Loop

Minor Schedule Changes Made; Agree On Starting Time For Twilight Games

Primarily because New Galilee will be unable to play their first games on their home field, some minor changes were necessary in the Lawrence County Baseball league card at Tuesday's meeting in the Sporting Goods store.

With all the loop managers present at the meeting it was voted upon and agreed to have a deadline of 15 p. m. for twilight games during the season, in conjunction with the new daylight saving time. Sunday contests will begin as originally planned, at 3 p. m.

It was also made official to have July 10 as the last date players can be signed by the teams. In the case of players released by any of the clubs, there must be an interval of five days before said player or players can be signed by any other team in the circuit.

Schedule Altered

Summarizing the schedule changes they shape up as follows: Bessemer will be at the Wampum field, May 10, June 12, and July 14, while the Ardmore team will play at the Cement City diamond on May 26, June 28 and July 31. Bessemer also switched a date with the New Galilee club, playing the Hot Tons at home June 2 and going away on July 21.

New Galilee will open away instead of at home playing at Hillsville, May 5, and will meet the same team on their home field, June 23. The May 26 game with the Ellwood Boosters has been advanced to May 27, and the contest with the Ellwood Vets was moved from May 19 to May 20. The home game with Castlewood slated for May 12 will be played at the Castlewood field on May 13. To balance this the Castles will come to the New Galilee diamond, June 30.

SOMETHING is happening to our larger streams that is almost a mate for pollution and in some ways, more harmful. It may be labeled as the extreme in meddling with Mother Nature's job of caring for the natural heritage which God placed here for man to enjoy. It is a modern mania of the federal government for building big dams. It seems that a few congressmen and army engineers have little else in mind except to harness as much water as possible in one spot. They are determined to control the elements without regard for after effects.

Writes Seth L. Myers, of Northwest Pennsylvania Sportsmen. Conservation of water is of great importance and man must build dams for that purpose. The need, however, is for smaller dams in great numbers and at points above rivers where only waste land will be inundated. The practice of building huge dams and flooding thousands of acres of valuable land is one of the federal activities most hated by the common man. The way farmers and other small people are trimmed when the government forces its low prices for land taken over, is not what William Penn planned for residents of his woods.

An example of federal ruthlessness is the proposed Sharpville Reservoir, being pushed by Congressman Kirwin of Ohio. Little does it matter to him or the army engineers, that this fertile land belongs mostly to Pennsylvanians. Only a small portion of the land to be flooded is in Ohio. The great loss of thousands of acres of valuable farming land now supply the Shenango Valley with milk, butter, eggs and other products means nothing. Neither do they care about the natural habitat of millions of wild animals and birds that will be destroyed. They are not concerned with the fact that many millions of fish will die in the great outlying spaces, with shallow pools drying up as the flood water subsides each summer.

All of these natural things of life is as nothing when compared to the national prestige expected to come with the construction of this super-reservoir. An engineering feat to brag about in Congress while the defeated farmers mourn the loss of their life's work in building up the quality of their farms. While the army engineers slap each other on shiny backs, conservationists will take slaps in the face with the loss of their natural heritage. It is time for the people to bring back to Pennsylvania, control of their own lands. Too much control has already been centralized in the national capital. Our own state department is well qualified to engineer the construction of dams that fit into the conservation movement of our natural resources: water, soil, forests, fish, game and all of the other forms of nature in Pennsylvania.

Johnny Harvey decided Russell Baxter Monday night in a New York bout. Baxter was originally docketed to box Marvin Bryant, but there is no truth in the rumor that all reserved seats for the May 30 auto events at the Indianapolis speedway have been sold. Pellicie, a dark bay gelding to Sir Damien-Peluse, who ran a close second to Lord Boswell in the Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland started six times as a 2-year-old last year, winning two races and being unplaced in six. Fair Or Foul

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer
LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 1.—There is an outside chance that for the first time in the history of the Kentucky derby the public will be given an honest count on attendance at Saturday's renewal of the $100,000 classic.

Two or three years ago the publicity man rushed into the press box on derby day and said that officially there were 102,000 people at the track.

Expect Over 100,000
A few days ago Churchill Downs issued a communique saying that for the first time in derby history a crowd of 100,000 was expected for this running of the event.

That means the public was being counted around on that 102,000 figure. The publicity man of that time did not consult with Matt Winn, the owner of The Derby, or anybody else. He didn't even count the house, but was out to make himself look good by internally saying his publicity attracted the greatest throng ever.

The point of all this is that America's greatest one-day sports event remains shrouded in secrecy insofar as vital statistics are concerned. This race may attract more people than any other one-day event in the land, but the promoters steadfastly have refused in the past to present a tally.

Now Renovating
They also refused until this year to put in a toilet, and until now seldom painted barn and seemed insistent that this track which houses the nation's greatest horse race should be deliberately shabby and inconvenient.

Col Winn has always insisted by inference that what was good enough 100 years ago is good enough now. The result was a track which was an eyesore in racing.

Much of this has been changed finally through the insistence of a younger public relations regime, but they haven't caught up with the time until they let the world know.

Cardinals-Bucs Were Talking Of Trades Recently

PITTSBURGH, May 1.—(INS)—Despite denials from both sides, the inside story today is that the Pittsburgh Pirates and the St. Louis Cardinals talked trades involving infielder Whitely Kuroski and a number of Pirates.

At the beginning of the season when Kuroski was still a holdout, the Pirates were willing to swap Catcher Al Lopez, infielder Frankie Gustine and a lump of cash amounting to $50,000.

Wanted Lopez
Then when Gustine, a popular player with Pittsburgh fans, broke into the lineup replacing the aged and ailing Jimmy Brown, and started leading the club in hitting, the Pirates officialdom asked the Cards to take infielder Lee Handley, who hasn't played this season.

Finally Lopez, who the Cards wanted most of all, injured his finger in practice and the deal was called off.

The Cards need an infielder like Rockefeller need money but since selling Catcher Walker Cooper to the New York Giants, their backstopping has been very weak and their only veteran catcher, Ken O'Dea, has been out of the lineup with injuries. It is doubtful, too, whether O'Dea would be able to hold up for 154 games.

Need Catcher
Manager Eddie Dyer of the Cards admitted last week when his club was in Pittsburgh for a two-day stand that he is out looking for a mask-and-pad man, but he denied that he and Frankie Frisch, the Pirates' pilot, had ever talked trades. Dyer also expressed grave concern over his ace moundman, Johnny Beazley.

Beazley, recently discharged from the air forces, injured his throwing arm while in service and Dyer said the pitcher has lost the "old whip" that a fast ball pitcher needs to hop the ball past the batters.

Beazley said the arm started bothering him after he flew back in an open plane following a game he hurried for the air transport team.

Little Bit Hasty
The Cards also may have been a little bit hasty in selling First Baseman Ray Sanders to the Boston Braves. He was replaced by Dick Sisler, son of the former all-time great infielder, Young Dick was a standout in service ball, but almost everyone is agreed that pitchers will wear down a lot harder for $10,000 a season than they did for $50 a month. Even Sisler is finding that out as the season rolls along.

St. Vitus Sodality Bowlers Banquet

Prizes For This Year's Bowling Season Awarded To Large Group At Banquet

Climaxing a fourth successful bowling year, the Sodality of Our Lady of St. Vitus church met on Sunday evening at the Ecclesian club to enjoy a delicious full course chicken dinner.

The six teams sat at individual tables, attractively decorated in blue and white. The letter "W" indicated the winners' table and "L" the losers' table.

Master Of Ceremonies
Thelma Phillips as master of ceremonies introduced the speakers and special guests.

Rev. Fr. Albert M. Inteso, the sodality director, congratulated the group on a fine bowling year, and expressed his thanks to the banquet committee.

Rev. Fr. Francis Pirulli, also of St. Vitus, spoke in praise of the group's spiritual activities. An original bowling knocker, written by Celestina Scungio, was presented, followed by a play in poetry form. The scene was at the Hotel Ritz, with the desk clerk, Helen Crudel, giving the introduction similar to "The Raven". The hotel rooms were assigned according to the teams' standing. Bell Hop Celestina Scungio made the awards, and red cap, Viola Naples, delivered the award.

High Scorers
Thelma Phillips received high three-game score, 443; Laura Isabelle for the high single game, 189. Members of the winning team, receiving pins were: Rita Cherby, captain; Helen Crudel, Julie Venditto, Frances Corio, Rose Chilli, Antoinette Call, Mary Casavilla and Ann D'Amico. A prize was received also by each member as they received their award. Highest average went to Ann Miccimarra, and a prize also to Vicky Comparone.

Members of the remaining five teams in order of their standing also received "comic" prizes.

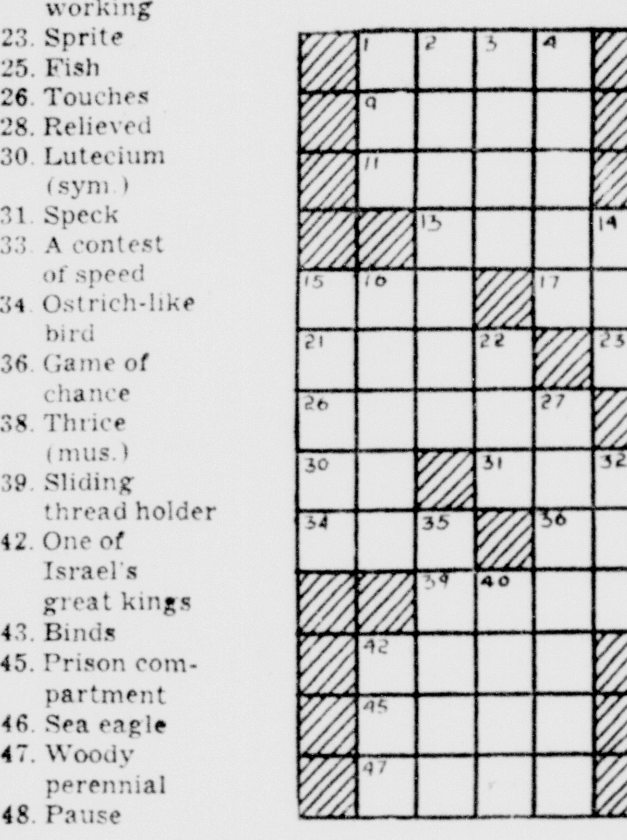

Bowling Chairman Thelma Phillips, Co-Chairman Betty DeMatteo and Treasurer Vicky Comparone were extended due credit for making the banquet successful, and also the bowling season.

Dancing and ping-pong were later enjoyed by the group to complete the event.

URGENT CAREFUL DRIVING
HARRISBURG, May 1.—(INS)—Motorists were asked today by the state game commission to drive with caution through game territory because "now that traffic is back to normal an alarming toll of wildlife is recklessly being destroyed."

Joe Will Begin Heaving Training

Louis Weighs 218 Now, Will Scale Down To 208 For Conn Bout

NEW YORK, May 1.—(INS)—Heavyweight champion Joe Louis arrived in New York Tuesday night and ready to begin serious training for his forthcoming title fight with Billy Conn.

Louis, sporting a two-month beard he promised to shave off later, said he planned to see the Yankee-Cleveland teams play, then go on to Pompton Lakes, N. J., where he will do his heavy work.

Declining to talk much about the June 19th fight in Yankee Stadium, Louis said, however, he expected to weigh in at 208—the heaviest he ever has been for a major ring battle. He weighs approximately 218 right now.

Riphey Wins In Derby Trial Race

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 1.—(INS)—Horse experts who gauge weather elements in their racing selections today were figuring William Hells Riphey as a possible surprise winner of Saturday's $100,000 Kentucky Derby in the event of a muddy track.

The Hells colt, ridden by Ferrell Zufelt, raced to a head victory over Spy Song and other derby eligibles in yesterday's one-mile derby trial over a muddy strip at Churchill Downs.

With Pleasure was third and Assault fourth.

Pay $106,000 To See Ike Defeat Mexican

LOS ANGELES, May 1.—(INS)—Dusky Ike Williams, of Brenton, N. J., laced a technical knockout with Enrique Bolanos into his N. B. A. world's lightweight boxing championship belt today after disposing of the challenger from below the border in two minutes, 32 seconds of the eighth round of a scheduled 15-round title match. A crowd of 18,000 paid $106,000 to view the open air match at Wrigley Field last night.

PITTSBURGH, May 1.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Pirates today announced the release of Third Baseman Vic Barnhart to Albany in the International League.

Manager Frankie Frisch said that the infielder went to Rip Collins' club on a 24-hour recall option.

The release of Barnhart cuts the Pirates roster down to 34 players.

Atcheson Says Japan In Need Of Food Imports

Allied Council Head Says Food Needed To Offset Starvation And Unrest

TOKYO, May 1.—(INS)—Allied Council Chairman George Atcheson on Tuesday told the Council that Japan desperately needs food imports in for no other reason than protection of Allied occupation forces.

Replying to a British inquiry whether imports were necessary, Atcheson stated that America alone was providing food for Japan "at some sacrifice to the American people."

He said that these imports from the United States were to prevent starvation and resultant unrest among the Japanese population.

Needs Imports
A spokesman for General MacArthur's headquarters, Major Warren Leonard, told the council that out imports the Japanese people, because of poor distribution, will be reduced to a daily average of 470 calories within the next six months. Leonard declared that the Japanese could not exist on less than 1285 calories. They presently are eating 1,435 calories of domestically produced food but Leonard pointed out that three-quarters of all Japanese food is produced between November and April.

Leonard said that it was not fair to compare consumption in Germany with that of Japan because the German figures are based on the official ration and not on consumption.

BLUE RIDGE BUS DRIVERS' STRIKE WAS CALLED OFF

PITTSBURGH, May 1.—(INS)—Bus drivers of the western division of the Blue Ridge lines were back on the job today when their threatened strike was called off five minutes before the midnight zero hour.

The action came when both company and union officials of the AFL-Amalgamated Street and Electric Railways and Motor Coach Employees agreed to continue negotiations on the union demand for a 30-cent an hour wage increase. Meanwhile, drivers for the Harmony Short Lines accepted the company's 15-cent an hour wage boost. Maintenance men and terminal employees were not included in the new contract.

Company and union officials will meet Friday in the union's international office in Philadelphia where negotiations will be discussed.

The outcome of the Philadelphia meeting may determine whether the strike will be rescheduled.

Housewives Nibble Too Much; Nutritionist Advocates Diet

By MARTHA KEARNEY
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Emily Davis of the human nutrition bureau said today that housewives and office workers who "never find time for a decent meal" are the people who can best afford to cut down on food intake.

The bureau, a division of the agriculture department, is conducting a campaign urging overweight Americans to reduce to feed starved people of Europe.

Miss Davis contended that hardened housewives who feed the rest of the household but never get time to sit down to regular meals themselves can improve their figures and health by aiding the food conservation program and cutting down on calories.

She explained:
No Balance To Meals
"Some housewives nibble all day long instead of having balanced meals at specified times. They should plan their own breakfasts and lunches as carefully as they plan the family dinner."
"Quick, impromptu meals and in-between improvisations are inclined to consist of quickly-filling starches and carbohydrates instead of healthful fruits and vegetables."

Miss Davis said housewives also have a bad habit of joining the kids in a glass of milk and a piece of pie or cake or doughnuts when school lets out. She suggested:

"If housewives find they are hungry when the children come home, let them stick to the glass of milk or a piece of fruit instead of stuffing on fattening things. The children use up enough energy to work off the effects but the housewife just gains weight."

She added:

Are You A Taster?
"Housewives who complain that they can't possibly cut down on food intake—that they don't eat enough to keep a sparrow alive—ought to ask themselves one question—Am I a taster?"

"Tasting" piles on the pounds as a glimpse at any professional chef will certify.
As for office workers, Miss Davis deplored the tendency of white collar girls to "dilet" at drug store counters. She said:
"Those luncheons are rather high on calories and don't include enough protective foods."
"Office workers should decide on their meals ahead of time and then make sure that they get the right proportion of fruits, vegetables, salads without mayonnaise and foods of low-calorie value generally. They don't need many of the energy-giving foods. At some time during the day they should try to include peas, lima beans or corn in their diet because those vegetables are rich in the B vitamins."

In short, Miss Davis believes that food conservation can be a beauty measure instead of a chore. She emphasized, however, that young mothers, persons under 20 and persons suffering from organic diseases should not reduce except with the permission of a physician.

SOLID CITIZENS WORST

This group, which never has any other brush with the law, draws 80 per cent of all traffic violation summons.

Known as the "little red door," the center is under the supervision of Mrs. Sylvia Sturdevant, and she will be more than pleased to give you the complete facts concerning this dread disease.

Living through the gray war years when we were used to reading of wholesale slaughter, horror camps and numerous other offensive subjects, our minds became immunized to the horrible. Now when we hear of the ravages of such a disease as cancer, we are subconsciously guilty of shrugging our shoulders and passing it off.

Now that the war is won, we are turning to the building of the peace. There are still many enemies to fight, and cancer is one of them, a fifth column foe that lies in wait for us right here in our own country. Time is short. General Eisenhower En Route To Japan Has Praise For Pacific
Commander

HONOLULU, May 1.—(INS)—Occupation policies of General Douglas MacArthur in Japan has the praise Tuesday of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, en route to Tokyo for a conference with the supreme commander.

Eisenhower, who is also making a tour of Pacific bases, declared: "MacArthur is doing a fine job."

Eisenhower told Honolulu reporters that the United States is highly interested in the possible future use of polar areas. He pointed out that the United States has observers with the Canadian Muskox operations testing arctic military equipment.

Commenting on the possibility of sharing atomic bomb secrets with other nations, Eisenhower said: "We would be fools if we did not guard our national security first of all. We may share the atomic secrets in time, however."
